'May Consider'

Women as candidates for the city council and board of education became a possibility here today when Mrs. W. L. Deimling, chairman of this district for the Southern California Federation of Women's clubs, declared that, in her opinion, there should be at least two women on each of the boards.

Mrs. Deimling said there had been some discussion of advancing women for both boards, but that so far as she knew, no organization in the city had taken definite action in promotion of a program to nominate women for the positions.

Mrs. John Clarkson, president of the Santa Ana Ebell club, said that there had been discussion by Parent-Teacher associations of inducing women to become candidates for the board of education.

It became known today that F. L. Andrews, secretary of the present board of education, C. F. Smith, a member, L. G. Swales, manager of the McFadden Insurance company, and Alex. Brownridge, cashier of the Farmers and Merchants Savings bank, would be candidates for members of the board of education. These four, with Marshall L. Keeler, whose candidacy was announced yesterday, makes five whose nomination papers will be circulated within a day or two.

H. C. Davies, J. Dick Wilson and J. L. McBride, members of the board, will not seek re-election. Mrs. Olive Lopez, who has been city treasurer for the past eight years, announced today that she would seek re-election. Friends of Mrs. Lopez point to her service as being entirely satisfactory under the arrangements controlling the

STAR FAILS TO EXCITE CALIF. SCIENTISTS

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 28.—Scientists of the Pacific coast today were unable to become greatly excited over the reported conflagration on the star Ceti.

They seemed to agree on these points:

First, that Beta Ceti probably isn't burning and never has burned.

Second, that if observers are seeing a fire consuming the star now, the fire probably was contemporaneous with the landing of the Pilgrims at Plymouth.

"The star is so far away that the distance cannot be measured," said Father Ricard, in charge of the astronomical laboratory at Santa Clara college today.

"But it is estimated that the star is 300 light years away which means it takes 300 years for a ray of light from Beta Ceti to reach the earth."

"Hence if there is a fire being seen on the star now, the fire really occurred some 300 years ago."

Professor W. W. Campbell, director of Lick Observatory expressed the belief that astronomers were possibly being "fooled" and that what is being seen is the variable star Mira, in the constellation "Whale" which is now at its maximum brightness.

Dr. Walter S. Adams of Mount Wilson solar observatory, expressed the belief that the star can be burning only in the sense that its brightness has increased.

Volstead Turns Down $1000 Per Day Offer to Rap Booze

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Cashing in on hard words does not appeal to Representative Volstead—the man of congress "most cursed" by wets.

The much-maligned man from Minnesota, it was learned today, has turned down a Chautauqua offer of $1,000 a night to strafe the synthetic "demon rum."

Instead of capitalizing his fame and carrying on for the dry cause when he leaves congress on March 4, Volstead, who was defeated for re-election, is going back to his law office in Granite Falls, Minn., to practice his profession.

HARDING SIGNS BRITISH DEBT FUNDING LAW

(By United Press Leased Wire)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—President Harding today signed the bill providing for an acceptance of British debt settlement.

The way is now clear for drawing up a formal contract for paying the two nations for paying the greatest international debt in the history of the world.

Great Britain is expected to make an immediate cash payment of about $4,000,000 and then follow during the year with payments totaling about $161,000,000.

The terms agreed upon call for payment of the $4,000,000,000 debt in 62 years. The interest rate for the first ten years is to be 3 percent with 3 1/2 percent thereafter.

Should Great Britain not pay the debt in less than 62 years, her total payments to this government would be approximately $10,000,000,000.

All payments must be used under present law to retire Liberty bonds. This bill signed by the president today provides for extending the British terms to other debtor nations.

LAUNCH WAR AGAINST I. W. W.

BIG PROGRAM MAPPED BY GOLF MEN

Site Purchase, Opening of
One of Southland's Best Courses, Plan

Organization of a new country club, with initiation fee of $400, membership limited to 400, purchase of approximately 150 acres in Santa Ana Heights, creation of a holding company to buy the property, and establishment of one of the best golf courses and clubhouse facilities in Southern California, was the big program today of members of the Orange County Country club, following a meeting of members held last night at St. Ann's Inn, at which those present voted unanimously to acquire a permanent site for the club.

The holding company will consist of fifty men, each of whom will obligate himself to the amount of approximately $325 a year in order that the site may be purchased at once under terms proposed by Bradford and Bryan and William McCoy, owners of the tract. The offer must be accepted within the next three days. The first payment of 25 per cent of the purchase price will be due in ninety days. The price is approximately $75,000.

Twenty-two men signed for the company last night and directors of the organization will attempt to procure the remaining signatures tomorrow or the following day.

Twenty-Two Sign Up
In addition to the number signed for the holding company, twenty-two signed for membership under the $400 initiation fee.

Directors of the club were authorized to execute plans necessary to organize the new club. Creation of the new club was deemed best under the new plans. It will not come into official existence until expiration of the lease on the present site of the club.

The name of the new club will be selected later. Santa Ana Country club was suggested last night. It was pointed out that "Orange County Country club" leaves locality of the club indefinite. It was pointed out also that other clubs have been organized in the county since the institution of the present organization and that therefore the name should be changed.

According to Secretary George B. Shattuck, mail for the club is received at a half dozen different places because many persons who do not know definitely the post office address.

DEATH TAKES HERO OF BIG MINE BLAST

Leader in Fight to Release Argonaut Victim Dies of Infection Caused by Struggle.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 28.—The Argonaut mine disaster has claimed its forty-seventh victim.

Funeral services are being arranged here today for George Downing, assistant superintendent of the Argonaut mine, who died in a local hospital last night, following a four months' battle with infection caused from his labors in the vain struggle to release the entombed miners.

His father, Dr. Augustus S. Downing, assistant commissioner of higher education of New York state, and his young wife were at the bedside when Downing died.

At least sixty-four members of the organization are under arrest, being tried or awaiting trial in such widely scattered cities as Eureka, and Sacramento in Northern California; Fresno in Central California and Los Angeles in the south. These are charged with violation of the state's "criminal syndicalism" law.

Sixteen others are under indictment at Fresno but have not been arrested.

Held for Vagrancy.
In addition, the district defense council which is conducting the defense of the accused men, charged today that approximately 1,000 others have been arrested in Southern California charged with vagrancy.

"In each case the charge is the same and the defense is the same," declared Austin Lewis, who has been connected, as attorney, with a number of the cases involved.

"The men are charged with violating the criminal syndicalism law which was passed as a war measure and which provides for imprisonment for not more than 14 years of any person belonging to an organization approving or advocating syndicalism or direct action."

"In no case do the accused men deny their membership in the I. W. W. They admit they are members and the defense offers evidence to show that the I. W. W. is not an organization approving or advocating syndicalism."

Blames Power Companies
The district defense council charged that power companies in Southern California are backing the prosecutions in California "in order to keep their labor camps from becoming organized."

Prosecutors, it is understood, are prepared to present at these trials evidence by former I. W. W. members detailing alleged acts of syndicalism charged against the I. W. W. and putting in evidence what purports to be the details of the inner workings of the organization.

Of the men now under arrest thirty are on trial in Los Angeles while three others are awaiting trial in Sacramento; five in Eureka and five in Fresno.

DIES IN SNOW STORM
WHEATON, Minn., Feb. 28.—Trapped by a blinding snow storm, Henry Hennen of Dumont, was frozen to death and his body found near Dumont.

Adam F. Zaiser, for fifteen years a prominent figure in banking in Santa Ana, today retired from active business life. He has resigned as assistant cashier of the First National bank. His resignation took effect this afternoon.

Soon after coming to Santa Ana from Burlington, Ia., Zaiser entered the Farmers and Merchants' National bank, and when that bank was merged into the First National four years ago he became assistant cashier of the First National.

The reason for Zaiser's retirement is that he seeks rest and the betterment of his health.

Soviet Leaders Plan Early Return to 'Capitalist' System

LONDON, Feb. 28.—Soviet Russia is going to adopt the capitalist system of government at end of March, when the Communist congress meets, according to Helsingfors dispatches today.

At that time, Leon Trotsky, war minister, will take over direction of the department of industry or education, the Daily Herald, confirming the above report, states.

The change to a capitalist system will be complete and will necessitate the turning over of power to a group representing the trade unions and co-operative socialists.

Under the new regime, the tasks of fostering industry and education are considered the most important, and Trotsky will be asked to take over one or the other.

PLAN SPEEDY JUSTICE FOR GIRL SLAYER

Authorities to Place Confessed
Abductor and Slayer on Trial
Next Week.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Feb. 28.—"Swift justice" will be meted out to Wylie Morgan, 38, confessed abductor and murderer of 6-year-old Lillian Gillmore, District Attorney Rotan announced today.

The coroner's inquest will be held Friday and the finding will be sent to the district attorney's office for the preparation of an indictment. The indictment will probably go to the grand jury on Saturday and the trial will begin next week.

Baltimore and New York, cities with unsolved child murders, will send detectives here to question Morgan, police said.

Detective Hogan of Baltimore, will question Morgan in connection with the murder of Clare Stone, 8-year-old girl, who was killed by a fiend on February 21, 1922, it was announced.

KIWANIS IN BIG ATTENDANCE DRIVE

With the membership divided into four regiments, the army of attendance today was prepared to muster full membership of the Kiwanis club at weekly meetings in an attendance contest to be instituted next week by the International Kiwanis association. Colonels, majors and captains were named at the meeting of the Santa Ana club today. Non-commissioned officers remain to be appointed by the men bearing rank of commissioned officers.

The International will give suitable prizes for winners in the various grades in which clubs have been divided. A further incentive for full attendance here is a contest that will be waged between clubs of the county for possession of the cup won by the Kiwanis clubs for their entry in the Armistice Day parade at Fullerton. The cup is now in possession of the La Habra club.

Installation of a radio set at St. Ann's Inn by J. Robertson made it possible for the local club to hear part of a program arranged and broadcast by the Los Angeles club.

The speaker was George M. Wessels, of Los Angeles, who discussed merchandising sales and service.

The club voted to open its meetings hereafter at 12:05 p. m. instead of 12:15 p. m. This will give ten minutes more time for programs.

MEETS HORRIBLE DEATH MASON CITY, Ia., Feb. 28.—"Buster," 9, son of John Carmody, died at the farm home near Portland of injuries received when he was caught in a gasoline engine.

He suffered two terrible blows on the head when he was slung around by the flywheel in which his clothing was caught.

SEA GIVES UP CLUES TO PLOT

Bodies of Five Murder Victims Found on Desolate Beaches

PROHIBITION HEAD LAUNCHES INQUIRY

Evidence Shows Booze
Smugglers In War off
Sou. Calif. Coast

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 28.—The United States government today took steps to investigate a rum pirate war believed to have been responsible for the deaths of five men on lonely islands in the Pacific off the coast of Southern California.

The bodies of the five victims have been located one by one at widely separated points on the beach and in coves of the wild uninhabited sections of Santa Cruz Islands and Channel Islands.

The body of Captain Isaac Newton was found several days ago on the beach of Scorpion bay, Channel Islands. The bodies of Captain Frank Nidever and Captain Jerry Schively and two seamen were found on Santa Cruz island. Evidence showed that all of the men had either been beaten to death or beaten into unconsciousness and the bodies thrown into the water.

The victims were operating small fishing smacks. Authorities at Santa Barbara believe that the men surprised rum smugglers at their work and were killed or else had had dealings with the liquor pirates and had been marked for death.

The prohibition enforcement office thinks that the men may have been mistaken for drug agents. A widespread investigation was started today by Prohibition Chiefs Dolley and Anderson and Collector of Customs Schwabe, who are holding a revenue cutter in readiness to dash to the islands to investigate clues as to the identity of the liquor pirates which are being gathered here.

TWO SHIPS PERILED IN PACIFIC STORM

(By United Press Leased Wire)
SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 28.—The steamer Lurline went ashore at 11:30 this morning at Bush Point on Whidbey Island, according to wireless messages to the harbor radio and merchants exchange here. The tug Sea Monarch is on the way to assist the disabled vessel.

The Japanese barkentine Tayo Maru is reported by radio from Neah Bay to be coming in with mizzen, main mizzen and topmasts gone, blown away at sea in the heavy storm now prevailing.

The Lurline went ashore during a dense fog this morning. She was bound from Bellingham to Tacoma. The crew is in no immediate danger and the hull of the ship is not severely damaged, according to reports received here from Port Angeles.

The vessel will be floated at high tide, according to advices. The coast guard cutter Snohomish left Port Angeles at 12:30 to assist the Sea Monarch.

LAD JAILED AS FLOUR THEFT SUSPECT HERE

Arrested after City Marshal Jack Coombs of Seal Beach had fired several shots after him, a Santa Ana youth was being held here on charges of having stolen several sacks of flour from a truck near the West Fifth street bridge today.

Coombs was coming toward Santa Ana in an automobile, when, he said, he saw two lads climb on the truck while it was in motion, and throw several sacks of flour from it.

He ordered the lads to stop, but they fled. One boy, who escaped, failed to heed shots which the officer fired into the air, but the other lad was captured.

URGE WOMEN TO ENTER RACES FOR OFFICE

operations of the office and predict her re-election. So far as is now known, she will have no opposition.

"Budget" to File Today.

Theo ("Budget") Lacy was expected to file his nomination petition for city marshal with the city clerk today. He took out the petition yesterday.

George McPhee, county sealer of weights and measures and former member of the city council, commented today on reports that he was "being groomed for the office of city manager" and also possibly as a candidate for city council, by declaring that he had given no consideration to these matters. Were his friends to become insistent, he indicated, he might think it over.

"Both the board of trustees and the board of education should have not less than two women members," declared Mrs. Deimling. "The men need their advice. Women have more time than men to give to the study of problems that confront members of the board. Consequently, they could see that things are given the attention justified by their importance. I am satisfied that no woman would desire to be the only woman on either board. I believe that there should be not less than two members of my sex on each board."

Mrs. Clarkson said she had been asked by an active worker in one of the associations to become a candidate for the school board, but had declined. She never has heard a suggestion that women should be elected to the city council, but believes that the city would profit by such a course.

"I have always felt that women should have membership on the school board," said Mrs. Clarkson. "The schools are close to the home and I know that women see and know more about school conditions than do the men. I think their deep interest in the welfare of the children and their proper education would make the service of women on the board invaluable in direction of school affairs."

"Women as yet have not gotten very deeply into municipal politics and I believe the present is a good time to introduce them to municipal political life in Santa Ana. I believe it would be to the best interests of the city to have women on the council. Their judgment on city matters would be valuable, and men members of the city governing body would undoubtedly profit by having the advice of one or more women."

WOMAN LEAVES MATE OUT OF $31,000 WILL

Omitting her husband from provision in her will, because "he was able to care for himself," Lucy Ortega, who died at Long Beach, February 17, disposed of a $31,000 estate, consisting of gems and other valuable properties, to her sons and a grandson, according to a petition for probate filed in superior court here by John Wagner.

Of the entire estate, $21,000 consists of notes and securities. The following provisions were made:

To Peter Sorne, $1,000.
To a son, Renaldo, $1,500.
To a son, James, $1,500.

Son Given Diamond

The largest of her diamonds to a son, James.

The diamond in her breastpin, to John, a son.

To a son, James, and a grandson, Charles, one each of the two diamonds in a ring.

The remainder of the estate was to be divided between the three sons. Ames and McFadden prepared the petition.

Ruth Decker applied for probate in the estate of C. C. Jenness, who died February 17 at Anaheim. The estate totaled $10,000. Barney Kelmanson, Anaheim house-wrecker, who was killed February 12, when his automobile was hit at Cypress by a Pacific Electric trolley car, had an estate of less than $10,000, a petition to probate, filed by his wife, Katherine Kelmanson, Long Beach, stated.

The property consists of real estate valued at $4,000, an interest in the Pacific Salvage and Wrecking company, Anaheim, valued at $1,000, cash in bank, $42, and a claim against the Pacific Electric company of unknown value.

He leaves, beside his widow, two children, Victor, 8, and Marian, 6.

Ames and McFadden prepared the petition.

The estate of Ollie Miller, who was killed near Wintersburg last Sunday, when the automobile in which he was riding crashed into the rear of a truck, had an estate not in excess of $500, according to Public Administrator C. D. Brown, who today sought to probate it.

The estate of the late John F. Pritchett, who died here January 26, was worth $10,000, according to a petition to probate filed by Attorney Clyde Bishop today.

The estate was left to sons and daughters of the deceased. Included among the beneficiaries were Mrs. Elizabeth Jernigan, Miss Flora Pritchett and Miss Sibylle Pritchett of Santa Ana, and Clyde Pritchett of Los Angeles.

POLY SENIORS HAVE PICTURES TAKEN AS ARIEL ISSUE NEARS

"Where's the party?" That is the question being asked in the halls at high school these days.

The cause is the appearance of the much-dolled-up senior boys, who, discarding dirty cords and battle-scarred sweaters, are appearing in their "best bib and tucker."

The seniors so regally attired have been on a visit to the photographer who is taking pictures of the graduate class for the high school's annual publication, The Ariel.

SENIOR GIRLS VOTE PASTEL SHADE GARB

Pastel shades of organdie, handkerchief linen, or dotted swiss.

That will be the attire worn by the sweet girl graduates of the Santa Ana high school at the Commencement exercises in June.

The advocates for the pastel shade garb emerged victorious today when the girls of the graduating class balloted as to the type of dress they will wear on the night they receive their diplomas from the local school.

General satisfaction was expressed on the Poly campus in regard to the decision. Miss Jennie Lauby, faculty advisor of the senior class, stated she was well pleased with the spirit the girls had shown in selecting a dress that could be used on other occasions aside from the graduation exercises.

At a meeting yesterday Senior boys voted to wear dark suits to both the Commencement and to the Baccalaureate sermon instead of wearing white flannels to Commencement.

SANTA ANA GOLFERS MAP BIG PROGRAM

Williams pointed out that by procuring a membership of 400 at the designated initiation fee, the club would be free of debt. Securing of such a membership within one year was believed possible.

In a communication to the directors, William Watson, golf architect of Los Angeles, said that in his opinion one of the best courses in Southern California could be established at a minimum cost.

Those present last night were: Dr. Elliott H. Rowland, Stanley Reed, E. T. Mateer, F. M. Medbery, M. B. Lacy, O. F. Ward, C. E. Parker, D. A. Casey, H. J. Lowe, H. L. Miller, Jack Oliver, W. I. MADE HIM SLEEP IN GARAGE, MAN'S PLEA

When A. A. Ward returned to his home in Tucson, Ariz., after working in Texas, his wife refused to admit him to the house, and he was compelled to sleep in the garage, he said, in a complaint for divorce entered in superior court here today.

They were married September 19, 1919, in Tucson, and lived there until the husband obtained work in a Texas city, he said. When his wife refused to join him there, he returned to Arizona.

Attorneys Tipton and Cilor represented the plaintiff.

LEAPS FROM CAR TO DEATH.

WELLINGTON, Kan., Feb. 28.—A puff of smoke from under the hood of a car in which she was riding with her husband and little son caused Mrs. J. A. Headley of this place to leap to the ground before the speed of the car could be checked. She struck on her face, her neck was broken and she died instantly. The smoke was caused by an overheated engine.

ENLIST AID OF CONGRESS FOR LOCAL P. O.

Predicting a virtual tie-up of post offices of Santa Ana, Los Angeles and other Southern California cities, as result of the exhaustion of overtime allowances for carriers, as reported in Washington, C. D. Overshiner, postmaster here, made a strong appeal for aid today.

At the request of Overshiner, J. C. Metzger, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, dispatched a wire to Congressman Phil D. Swing at Washington, asking that the congressman introduce and aid in forcing through Washington, before adjournment this week, an emergency measure to bring relief to harassed postmasters.

"Our post office service will be hard hit by the postal order ending overtime appropriations," Metzger wired Swing. "Many carriers cannot complete one delivery. Postal officials evidently fail to realize the rapid growth of our city. Can you help us?"

Carriers of the Santa Ana post office have been working from one to two hours overtime each day in order to deliver the day's mail, Overshiner declared.

Cites Complaints. "Patrons have been complaining for some time because they receive but one delivery in the residence section, when they are supposed to have two deliveries," said Overshiner.

"Since the first of January, 229 hours of overtime have been used to make either the one residence section trip or the two business trips."

"There have been days, especially on Mondays and days following holidays, when our residence carriers would have to work as much as two hours overtime to complete the trip."

"This increasing business is reducing the business carriers to only two deliveries a day."

"This is the situation. The post office department cannot be blamed. The whole fault is the Budget Bureau, which has refused to allow a deficiency appropriation."

"The appropriation in the first instance was too low. It is really up to Congress to help out in this case."

"The post office department has appealed to all post offices to do all in their power to meet the situation, and we are told we must economize, and at the same time give good service."

More Help Needed.

"This can't be done in a growing city like this; we are growing at too rapid a rate, and especially as we are in great need of more permanent help."

"It is difficult for the officials at Washington to realize the rapid growth of Southern California cities. They are inclined to place us in the same class as slow communities of the East."

"The order, prohibiting further overtime, is going to hit us all. Los Angeles will be just simply put out of commission. I have been told this by a prominent Los Angeles post office official."

BOY STEALING CASE MAN IN SAN QUENTIN

Eddie Smeed was in San Quentin today, beginning an indeterminate sentence of from one to 10 years, just 36 hours after he was arrested by Motorcycle Officer V. Barnhill, at the home of William King, 221 South Flower street, the boy whom he pleaded guilty to kidnapping and mistreating Monday night.

Smeed was captured after a score of officers had sought him for four hours. Arraigned before Justice J. B. Cox yesterday, he waived a jury, and his preliminary examination was held. He was bound over to superior court, was arraigned, pleaded guilty and was held for sentence before noon. At 2 p. m. Superior Judge Z. B. West pronounced sentence.

At 3:29 p. m. yesterday, Smeed began the northward trip in custody of Barnhill.

MOTHER OF FORMER S. A. TEACHER DIES

The many friends in this city of Miss Elizabeth Wyant, connected for a number of years with the English department of the high school, were saddened today when they learned of the death February 15, of her mother, Mrs. Sarah Lou Wyant at the family home in Sigourney, Ia.

Mrs. Wyant was born in Richland county, Ohio, January 8, 1839 and in her little girlhood moved with her parents to Iowa. With her father, she was a passenger on the first passenger train to cross the Mississippi river on the Rock Island bridge at Davenport.

WOMEN LAWYERS MEET.

Attorney Clara R. Cushman of this city and two score other Southern California members of the Women Lawyers' club of Los Angeles, heard Assemblywoman Miller of Pasadena announce at a meeting held in the Ferguson building Los Angeles, last night, that she planned to wage a determined fight to have replaced in the governor's budget provision for maintenance of the state Industrial Home for Women. An assemblywoman from Bakersfield will join Mrs. Miller in the fight, the latter said. The Women Lawyers' club meets every two weeks.

roads," while $26,000,000 went to the 5 per cent of "primary roads." They want at least half the state funds and all the local funds for secondary roads.

But now comes an Iowa legislator, Senator D. Kimberly, of Davenport, and proposes the most unique solution of all. "Our dirt roads are all right," he says, "except when it rains. So why pave them? Let's roof them." So he has introduced a bill to build a hundred thousand miles of steel roofing, over all the roads in the state. It will keep off the rain and the snow and the summer sun, he says, and will also be a fine nesting place for birds. (Copyright, 1923, by All Western Syn.)

EDEN WILL SUPPORT GOVERNOR'S BUDGET

State Senator Walter Eden will not oppose the governor's budget, it was reported today.

Senator Eden has taken part in several conferences since his arrival here, and according to reports, has maintained that he will support Governor Richardson, who was elected, he points out, on an economy issue and is trying to fulfill his pledges.

He talked to the legislative committee of the Orange county far bureau at the office here last night, and according to Edwin F. Whedon, secretary manager of the bureau, the senator displayed conservative, logical reasoning relative to legislative matters that came before the committee.

J. A. Cranston, city school superintendent, who with Louis Plummer, principal of the Fullerton high school, and A. C. Claves, principal of the Anaheim high school, discussed the proposed county school unit bill, with Senator Eden, also remarked as to the senator's conservative disposition.

"He told us," said Cranston, "that he would not force passage of the county school unit bill, but that he would not withdraw support of the bill he had introduced."

HOLD FINAL RITES FOR SUBSIDY BILL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The ship subsidy bill was buried "forty fathoms deep" today by the senate, its friends and not its foes selecting the resting place.

By a vote of 36 to 48, the motion of Senator Robinson of Arkansas, to recommit the bill to the senate commerce committee was defeated. This permitted the bill to be buried on the senate calendar as Senator Jones and its supporters wished.

The senate after some discussion voted to keep the filled milk bill the unfinished business. This definitely displaced the subsidy for the remainder of the session.

LEGAL TILTS FEATURE TRIAL OF GIRL CASE

Featured by hard fought tilts between opposing counsel, the second trial of William Wilson, Orange youth, charged with a serious offense involving a 17-year-old Orange girl, was still in progress in Superior Judge R. Y. Williams' court today.

Much of the day was taken up with the testimony of state witnesses, while today the defense questioned several persons.

The courtroom was filled with spectators. It was expected that attorneys would begin argument this afternoon.

DEMANDS JURY TRIAL IN SPOTLIGHT CASE

S. L. Newman, Santa Ana, disputed the ability of County Motor-cycle Officers Vernon Meyers and Frank Stewart to judge whether or not his spotlight was out of adjustment, as he came before Justice J. B. Cox on that charge today. His trial by the jury which he demanded, was set for March 23 at 9 a. m.

Meyers and Stewart told the court that they tested the spotlight and found it out of adjustment and gaging. Newman argued strenuously. At first the court set trial for next Friday at 7 a. m., but when the defendant demanded a jury trial, the date was changed. C. A. Knotts, San Pedro, was fined $15 for speeding. Meyers testified that he clocked him at 47 miles an hour.

PORT BOOSTED AT ONTARIO MEETING

Declaring that they had been warmly received and asserting that Orange county had been placed before citrus belt representatives in a most favorable light, Orange county boosters for Newport Harbor today had returned to their homes following a successful pilgrimage to Ontario.

Addressing the Ontario Chamber of Commerce at the Edison Hot Point clubhouse, Lew H. Wallace, of Newport Beach, told his hearers that the future growth and prosperity of the citrus belt depends greatly upon the development of Orange county harbor.

Port is Lauded
"We have one of the finest landlocked harbors in the United States," said Wallace, "and I predict that it will eventually become as great a factor in the commercial life of Southern California as Los Angeles harbor."

R. L. Bisby, secretary of the Orange County Harbor association, supported Wallace in his statement that Newport is the natural trade outlet for the huge citrus shipments of the citrus belt, stressing the fact that population and cheap transportation go hand in hand.

"I wish to call attention," said Bisby, "to the direct route from Ontario to the coast. It is only 35 miles distant, by truck, by way of Carbon canyon. The harbor is now in a position to accommodate vessels drawing from sixteen to eighteen feet of water."

Costa Mesas Present
Dr. J. W. Wherry, Costa Mesa, delivered a brief, humorous address. Others in the party included H. Hookstra, Costa Mesa branch of the Balboa bank; E. V. Minor, H. H. Williamson, W. C. Spencer, Charles Gardner, Jack Wright and C. W. Woodrow of Costa Mesa.

The Orange county delegation, while in Ontario, distributed hundreds of pamphlets and many pieces of descriptive literature showing the advantages of Orange county and the facilities of the harbor.

S. A. PLAYER FOLK WILL STAGE COMEDY

Declaring the play to be one of the brightest and cleverest of the comedies of today, the Community Players association has selected "Goodness Gracious, Annabelle," written by Clara Kummer, for its next public production, it became known here today.

The production will be given some time in April, the definite date to be selected later. Try-outs will be held next week.

Fifteen characters will be needed for the play and anyone with talent will be given opportunity to try out for the cast. Membership in the organization is not necessary for the privilege of trying out.

Decision has been made by the organization not to attempt the holding of monthly meetings. As originally contemplated, monthly meetings were to be held, with a play presented at each meeting. This program was abandoned because of a lack of funds.

According to a statement made today by Stanley Reed, a member of the association, a drive for members is hoped results will be such as to insure sufficient funds for the holding of monthly meetings next year.

Huntington Beach voters and city officials today were jubilant, following endorsement yesterday at the polls of the $300,000 bond issue designed to pave Ocean avenue, install an ornamental lighting system and improve Seventeenth street and Delaware avenue. The bond issue carried by a margin of fifty votes over the necessary two-thirds of the total vote, which was 644.

According to tentative plans, Ocean avenue, a beautiful thoroughfare paralleling the Pacific, will be paved for one mile at a width of eighty feet, giving the city one of the broadest driveways in the county. The remaining mile will be paved at a width of twenty feet.

Following formal action by the city trustees, in connection with a canvass of the returns, every effort will be made to award bids and complete the improvements as speedily as possible. This means that Huntington Beach will soon play its part in the plan to build a coast boulevard to connect Long Beach and San Diego.

TEACHER SERIOUSLY BEATEN BY STUDENT

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 28.—J. Kelso, teacher, is in a local hospital, suffering serious injuries received when attacked and beaten by a student. The student had been warned against hunting on Kelso's property near Rio Linda. Three days ago, it is said, he went to Kelso's land and on meeting the teacher attacked him. Reports that the youth had a grudge against the teacher because of reprimands in the school room were denied by Kelso. The student's name has been withheld.

Human, wholesome, humorous and sparkling is Thomas Meighan's new picture, "Back Home and Broke," which opens at the Yost theater tonight. George Ade, the humorist, whose fables have made him one of the best known and most popular of American writers, is the author.

The story tells of a young man who leaves his home town to win success in the great west. He and his mother are in distress; his father, supposedly wealthy, having died and left him penniless. Snubbed by former acquaintances, he goes away, and on returning a few years later an apparent failure, ridicule is heaped on him. Then a novel twist to the eternal story is introduced, with interesting results.

Picture patrons who saw "Our Leading Citizens," Ade's first Meighan picture, will be interested in the forthcoming production. Lila Lee, who is recognized as one of the best leading women, plays opposite Meighan. The cast generally is excellent, and includes Frederick Burton, Cyril Ring, Charles Abbe, Florence Dixon, Gertrude Quinlan, Richard Carlyle, Maude T. Gordon and other capable players.

"THE THIRD ALARM" HAS REAL HEART INTEREST

Although it unrolls thrills of striking magnitude, "The Third Alarm," which entertained hundreds at the Princess theater yesterday, has many moments of engrossing heart interest, according to local devotees who have analyzed the dramatic qualities of this much-discussed opus.

The drama whirls about the McDowell family, of which old Dan McDowell, veteran fire-fighter is the head. The family is held together in time of stress by the bonds of love and mutual respect.

The devotion of Mrs. McDowell and her children to the father will stir the admiration of every beholder. The spirit of the son, portrayed superbly by Johnnie Walker, in sacrificing his opportunity for an education to join the fire department as a hoseman in order to help support the family, is another heart-tugging factor in this unusual drama of the American home.

It is these scenes of human interest that makes "The Third Alarm" a drama of truly vital significance.

DESTROY COSTLY PAINTING IN "THE WORLD'S APPLAUSE"

To destroy a costly painting in the interest of art is an almost every day occurrence in motion picture making. That is why a portrait of Bebe Daniels, painted at heavy expense by a well-known artist, was cut to ribbons for a scene of William de Mille's production, "The World's Applause," featuring Bebe Daniels and Lewis Stone, which opened a five-day engagement at the West End theater last night.

The story deals with an actress who has a passion for publicity. She leaves nothing undone to keep herself in the public eye and when Robert Townsend, a wealthy artist, who desires to make her his conquest, offers to paint her portrait and hang it in the French salon, she consents to the arrangement.

The portrait of Miss Daniels was painted by a noted artist of Los Angeles at a cost approximating $1,000, and on its completion, it was placed in a frame and given a prominent place. As the guests invited by Townsend gather in an adjoining room in anticipation of seeing the great portrait, Mrs. Townsend (Kathlyn Williams), unable to restrain her fury, slashes the portrait savagely. In attempting to prevent the vandalism, Townsend is stabbed to death by his infuriated wife, who flees.

Corinne d'Alys (Bebe Daniels), the actress, is detained by the police, and the newspapers make a great sensation of the affair, with the result that Corinne loses all her friends, except one, her producer, John Elliot (Lewis Stone).

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Edwards and son, Kenneth have been having the influenza the past week. Mr. Edwards was greatly improved and Mrs. Edwards much better on Monday. Kenneth, who had seemed to be recovering for several days took a relapse that day and had a temperature of 104 degrees at the last report.

Mark Clever Dinner
In Gold Room

Assembling the members of his official family in Eastern Star circles, Mr. James A. Tarpley was dinner host Monday evening at James' gold room where with Mrs.
Tarpley's assistance he entertained the staff of officers of Hermosa chapter, O. E. S. of which he is worthy patron this year.

Dinner partners were gained in a novel manner, each woman guest having to select the man whose card answered the riddle printed on hers. The men all represented water fowl and animals and were given quaint little figures to designate them. The ensuing "hunt" served to establish the friendly spirit which was manifested throughout the evening.

Tables were arranged with quantities of flowers as decoration and at the intersection of the elongated T which they formed, was a boat laden with sweet peas and captained by a kewpie doll arranged in an exceedingly tall black hat to represent the host. Surrounding the boat were candles in the five colors of the Star points and Mr. Tarpley pointed out the questioned success of the pat-ron's voyage of a year when lighted on his way by the Star members.

Woman guests found a corsage of sweet peas awaiting them while quaint favors of nut cups in the Star colors with wee dollies whose flowing skirts concealed the candied nuts, were individual favors at each place. With the final course of the elaborate dinner, Mrs. Tarpley was surprised when a great birthday cake, agleam with candles, was placed before her.
She was celebrating her natal day but thought the fact unknown.
Rising to the occasion she cut the cake and it was served with ices to complete the dinner.

The evening was devoted to bridge with attractive gifts made, not to those who scored high but to those whose tally cards, (drawn from the mysterious high hat worn by the kewpie doll patron) disclosed a peculiar marking. By this system Mrs. Joe Burke received a dainty, hand-painted vase, Mrs. F. H. Cloyes received an artistic box of bon-bons and Mr. Roy Shaffer was consoled with a box of Shinola by the cheering members that if he failed to shine at the head he might still shine at the foot!

Card tables were adorned with gay little boxes of bon-bons and these were presented to the woman players scoring high at each table while Mrs. F. C. Rowland, associate matron, was made responsible for the safe keeping of the kewpie patron for the chapter year.

Mr. and Mrs. Tarpley's guests included Mr. and Mrs. Vern Whitson, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rowland, Mrs. Nell D. Winslow, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Zerman, Mr. and Mrs.
Joe Burke, Mr. and Mrs. Mark B.
Lacy, Mr. and Mrs. Roy V. Schaefer,
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mitchell,
Miss Bertha M. Stein, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Cloyes, Mr. and Mrs.
Charles Doty, Mrs. Maud E. Wiley,
Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Wilson, Miss Mame Havens, Mr. and Mrs. Frank
E. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Judson
Sutherland and Mr. and Mrs. H. T.
Trueblood.

Mrs. Trueblood while not an officer at present, was extended the courtesy as a charming compliment for it was under her reign as Hermosa matron that Mr. and Mrs. Tarpley became Hermosa members.

RETURN TO LAGUNA

LAGUNA BEACH, Feb. 28—Rev. and Mrs. Inwood have been spending several days in Laguna, at the Allen house overlooking Sleepy Hollow.

Rev. Inwood at one time had a church in Santa Ana, but for a number of years has been in Long Beach.

He and Mrs. Inwood built the first cottage in Sleepy Hollow and used to spend much time in Laguna, but have since sold it and return only occasionally, here, to visit old friends.

They tell of the amazing growth of Long Beach in the last few years. Property values have increased in a phenomenal manner, almost overnight at times and are still going up. They predict that Long Beach will be one of the largest cities in California before many years have passed.

Benefit Affair
At Temple Theater
Scores High Success

Between three and four hundred persons gathered at the Temple theater last night to enjoy the program presented by the Sarah A. Rounds Tent No. 10, Daughters of Veterans, as a means to raise money for the Soldiers' Widows' home at Sawtelle.

In connection with the film presentation of "Cardigan," Robert W. Chambers' story of colonial days, were four acts of home talents, which met with the warmest reception by the large audience.
The evening offering had been preceded by an afternoon picture show for school pupils which was both well attended and well received.

Mrs. Helen McPhee acted as accompanied for the various numbers, with the exception of the Spanish cabaret, and, of course, the orchestra numbers. Between acts and preceding the performances, members of Troop No. 10, Boy Scouts, who are "adopted boys" of Tent No. 10, sold popcorn and candy very successfully.

The picture was much enjoyed and the four acts to follow were accorded the liveliest interest and applause. Directed by Miss M.
Birdenia Henry, the little play,
"Our Aunt From California," presented by high school girls, was pronounced one of the most amusing things ever given here and the girls taking part were accorded highest praise for their ability.

Miss Evelyn Huffman gave a little introductions talk on the work of the Athena club at the high school.
The orchestra numbers, directed by Jack Langley, were delightful and offered a pleasing variety to the program. Miss Kathleen Owens in her song numbers was a pleasure to the eye as well as to the ear for she was most charming in her frock of colonial days and with her lovely black hair dressed with a quaint "Janice Meredith" curl. Her chorus of small colonial bells was very effective.

Adding new laurels to those already collected, the Spanish dancers proved delightful down to the smallest caballero of all, Master
Sol Gonzalez, who, in complete Spanish outfit, quite won the hearts of his audience.

Mrs. Lois Lenz, chairman of the program committee, today stated that it was the opinion of those in charge of the affair that considerably over a hundred dollars would be added to their fund as a result of the benefit.

Creative Arts Club

It seemed as though members of Creative Arts club were reluctant to bring their program to a close last night, so pleasant was the hospitality extended by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Northcross at their Spurway street home.

The evening was made most interesting with a talk on book-binding by Miss Margaret May of the Public Library. Miss May explained in detail the manner in which the lives of books at the library are lengthened by re-casing and rebinding them.

Interest in the subject was shown by the lively discussion by the display of many rare and quaint old volumes loaned by members and friends of the club.
Mr. and Mrs. Northcross had asked a few of their friends to share the interesting evening so those present included in addition to their hosts, Mrs. D. M. Hammock, of Los Angeles, mother of Mrs. Northcross and their guest for a few days, Mr. and Mrs. Terry Stephenson, Mr. and Mrs. William
A. Griffith, Miss Beulah May, Miss Margaret May, Miss Evelyn Nunn, Miss Charlotte Dresser, Miss Jennie Lasby, Miss Margaret Livingston, Mrs. Eleanor Elliott, Mrs. R.
Ruth Tiffany and Mr. Fred Rafferty.

The latter will entertain the club soon at his home and the evening will be devoted to a display of some of the unusual curios in his collection.

Success Crowns
Auxiliary Program Given at Legion Hall

Members of the American Legion auxiliary were being congratulated today upon the success of their entertainment held yesterday afternoon and evening at the Legion hall to raise funds for disabled veterans of the World War.

What the afternoon crowd lacked in numbers was made up by interest in the program arranged by a committee with Mrs. Clyde Whitney, auxiliary president, at its head.

Mrs. Whitney introduced the numbers beginning with a beautifully rendered violin solo by Laurene Cannon, a pupil of Ollimae Enlow Matthews. With lone Tun-son Peek (Mrs. Arnold Peek) giving her usual sympathetic piano accompaniment, Mr. Cannon played the Andante from one of De Beriot's concertos.

The group of living pictures proved most pleasing and study followed study in rapid succession.
The wistful charm of "The Old Crepe Shawl" was interpreted with perfection by Mrs. Eugene Robinson, while little Miss Jeannette Warhurst made "The Age of Innocence" live again as Sir Joshua Reynolds must have seen it.

Mrs. Peter Fluor in "The Broken Pitcher" gave a lovely study while Mrs. Dean Collier as "The Girl with the Muff" by Madame Le Brun seemed to have stepped right from the picture. "The Hostess" by Olin was cleverly reproduced by Miss Janey Wilde while Mrs. Victor Baird offered one of the most faithful representations in every detail when she posed for Madame Le Brun's Portrait of Herself.

The showing of the pictures was accompanied by a succession of appropriate melodies played by Mrs.
Peek.

The introduction of the Misses Constance and Perrone Arntzenius, the accomplished pair of twins who have forsaken their Holland home temporarily and are gaining many interesting American experiences, gave a unique turn to the program.

The two clever little Dutch girls in their quaint peasant costumes presented a group of songs and folk dances which well illustrated their versatility and command of languages.

As a Dutch peasant lad, a typical "Hans Brinker," Miss Constance prefaced the folk-songs and dances with a little talk on Holland and the customs of the country. Then the two gave a group of love songs from the French, Spanish, German and finally a quaint bit of Ukranian philosophy. In each case Miss Constance outlined the theme of the song and the dances which were given to the clicking accompaniment of wooden shoes as well as to the guitar which Constance played as she joined her sister in the dances.

The program was repeated in the evening with a few changes.
Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh played the piano accompaniment for a beautiful rendering of Gounod's "Ave Maria" as a violin solo by her daughter, Miss Virginia Slabaugh.
Miss Glenda May Wagner gave the piano accompaniment to the showing of the pictures, which had an added number in "Penelope" by Reynolds posed delightfully by little Betty Smith.

The Spanish dance presented by Marie Elizabeth Briggs was an added feature and was received with keen pleasure by those interested in the recent establishment of a studio of dancing by Miss Briggs at St. Ann's Inn. Her charm and grace were splendidly accomplished in the dance given and she made a satisfying picture in her Spanish costume with a huge red feather fan.

Her sister, Mrs. Garland Crow of Long Beach played the dance accompaniment.

There were between two and three hundred people to witness the evening performance.

Past-Matrons Meet For Luncheon In Masonic Temple

When Mrs. C. E. Moore, Mrs.
Minnie Holmes and Mrs. John Strassburger entertained members of the Past Matrons' association of Hermosa yesterday at luncheon, they introduced many original features to add to the pleasure of the Masonic temple.

Red and white carnations decked the table where guests found their places by clever cards employing the initials of their names in descriptive phrases, and arranged by the originality of Mrs.
Moore.

Following the delicious luncheon and a business session at 3 o'clock the afternoon was spent socially with an animal hunt adding to the merriment. The hostess-ess announced that hunting was one of the chief relaxations of the Father of His Country, and that the past matrons might well strive to emulate him. The objects of the chase were animal crackers concealed about the parlors. Mrs.
Fanny Reeves proved to be the most successful Nimrod and received first prize, while Mrs. Ade-

Attractive Luncheon Smartly Appointed
In Deep Red

One of the pleasant events of the week with St. Ann's Inn as its setting was the smartly appointed luncheon with which Mrs. C. E.
Lamme yesterday entertained the members of her bridge club and a few friends.

The private dining room of the Inn was chosen as the scene of the luncheon and the tables, arranged as a hollow square, were banked with greenery and deep red sweet peas to conform with the chosen color scheme of red. In the hollow formed by the table arrangement was a small wicker stand bearing a basket of vivid carnations which dominated the decorations.

Following the luncheon the guests adjourned to the sunny main dining room where small tables were arranged for bridge.
It is not the custom of the club to give prizes. Instead, score is carefully kept and at the end of the year, the winning half-dozen players are feted by the losers. But yesterday Mrs. Lamme lapsed the rule sufficiently to give a guest prize, a beautiful box of confections, which was won by Mrs. C.
Duane Holmes.

Bridge club members and guests enjoying Mrs. Lamme's hospitality were Mesdames Elmer Burns, J.
W. Bartholdmew, George Baderston, Addie Collins, Ella Campau, Charles Carothers, F. E. Farnsworth, Duane Holmes, W. A. Flood,

FARMERS, FAIR BOARDSMEN JOINT MEET

Orange county will hold a "clean fair," with no gambling or games of chance within the grounds.

Members of the board of directors of the 1923 Orange county fair were pledged to this stand by a resolution adopted by the farm center representatives at a banquet held at St. Ann's Inn here last night.

John Ragen, Villa Park; William Ritter, El Toro, and J. O. Arkeley, Garden Grove, were chosen as the special farm bureau committee to sit in conference with the fair board at future meetings.

The purpose of the banquet was to bring about a closer understanding between farmer and fair board member, and to provide a committee representative of the farmers, to act as the farmer's spokesman in matters concerning the county fair, according to various speakers at the banquet.

Huff Presides
D. Eymann Huff presided in the absence of W. B. Williams. Speakers included G. L. Crumrine, president of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange county; H. E. Wahlberg, Orange county farm advisor; George T. Kellogg, president of the Yorba Linda farm center; Dr. J. R. Schofield, former president of the Orange county farm bureau; and S. H. Finley, county supervisor and member of the fair board.

Rules and regulations of farm center exhibits as presented in a report by R. D. Flaherty, secretary of the fair board, were accepted with minor revisions.

Introducing the subject of the evening, Huff said:

"This is the first annual banquet of the fair board and farmers of Orange county in the interest of the county fair. We hope there will be many more."

Wahlberg told of his trip to the San Joaquin county fair headquarters at Stockton.

"Dollar for dollar, W. L. Douglas, manager of the fair, told me," said Wahlberg, "the fair had been the greatest factor in development of San Joaquin county in recent years."

Spend $300,000
"They spent $300,000 for fair grounds and buildings," he said. "Finley reviewed the history of the county fair from its inception at Huntington Beach to the present, with a permanent 30-acre site close to Santa Ana."

"It seems more reasonable to use the Union Pacific grounds this year," he said. "The permanent site should be improved with certain buildings before it is used."

Dr. Schofield compared the Orange county fair with the State university.

"It is an educational institution," he said, "and shows what Orange county is doing."

Kellogg spoke of the responsibility of the farmer in the Orange county fair, and indicated that there would be no lack of exhibitors this year.

Crumrine promised the moral support of the Associated Chambers of Commerce.

NAB L. A. LAWYER IN NARCOTIC TRAP

(By United Press Leased Wire)

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 28.—Charged with offering to furnish unlimited dope to the movie colony, Guy L. Rockwell, well known police attorney, was under arrest today on a charge of conspiring to violate the Harrison narcotic act. Eric Maglione, alleged to have been a go-between for Rockwell, was arrested on a similar charge.

The police allege that Maglione a short time ago approached two deputy sheriffs at a large motion picture studio and asked them "where he could get rid of some stuff." Pretending to welcome his offer they told him they could handle all he had and took him to the head of the motion picture studio whose name is being withheld for the present.

"Sure, I'll buy all you can furnish," said the executive, according to his story.

Sheriff Traeger was informed and a trap was laid. Rockwell's defense to the charge is that he had a client in jail and that he was laying a plot to trap the film executive for the police, hoping that they would be grateful and see that his client got leniency.

RELATIVES CALL

R. Bradley and son, Melvin Bradley, who remained over for the evening services at the Talbert church.

ASK YOUR NEIGHBOR

There is hardly a neighborhood in the United States where women cannot be found who have derived benefit from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For nearly fifty years this botanical medicine has been overcoming some of the worst forms of female ills. As one woman has benefited by its use, she has told others who have used it with the same good results; so the use of this great medicine has spread from shore to shore by the recommendation of those who have found it good. Therefore, ask your neighbor; let her tell you from experience the benefit which all women derive from its use.

PLAN COUNTY MEET OF HI-Y MEMBERS EARLY NEXT MONTH

The Santa Ana Hi-Y club today was developing plans for a get-together meeting of high school clubs of the county to be held early next month, following action at the regular meeting of the local club last night in the high school cafeteria.

The movement was received with considerable enthusiasm by the members present and it was predicted that the joint meeting would result in the assembling of a large number of young men in the county interested in the Y. M. C. A. work in the high schools.

The meeting will be held either in Santa Ana or at Orange, the place to be determined later.

The Rev. Will A. Betts, pastor of the First Methodist church, addressed the club last night, taking as his subject, "Character and Credit." He pointed out the value of character in development of credit.

Dinner was served by the Y. W. C. A. girls.

HUGE AUDIENCE SEES NURSES' GRADUATION

Beautiful and impressive ceremonies marked the graduation exercises of the Santa Ana Community Hospital Training School for Nurses here last night.

Held in the First Presbyterian church and featured by pleasing musical numbers contributed by Madame Manuela V. Budrow, Miss Ruth Armstrong and Robert L. Brown, the commencement was given added zest by the appearance in his old pulpit of the Rev. J. A. Stevenson, who delivered the address to the graduating class.

"I have heard it said that I am filling the Rev. Mr. Stevenson's shoes," said the Rev. W. E. Roberts, new pastor of the church, in presenting his predecessor to an audience which filled the big church to capacity. "This, however, is not quite true. I want to say that I am just rattling around in those shoes. No man can fill his shoes. He is too popular and too capable! It would be idle for me, or anyone else, to try it!"

Called Hospital's Daddy.

"The Rev. Mr. Stevenson served God and Santa Ana for sixteen years. In that time he endeared himself to thousands of men, women and children in this community. Among his closest friends are many of the nurses and officers of the Community hospital. It is fitting, therefore, that he should have the honor of delivering the principal address to this class. They call him the 'Daddy' of the hospital. How appropriate that a 'Daddy' should speak to his children on an occasion of this kind!"

The Rev. Mr. Stevenson, declaring that he was always glad to return to his old home, brought the graduating class a stirring message of hope and good cheer. "Yours is a noble ministry," said the Rev. Mr. Stevenson, "a ministry dedicated to the alleviation of pain. You have spent three years of your splendid young lives in preparing yourselves for this, your life work."

Will Soothe Tired Heart.

"You will go forth, with buoyant hope and with healing in your wings. I bespeak for you many years of usefulness. Like the Great Physician, you will soothe the tired heart, cool the feverish brow, bind up the wounds of the injured, the poor and the lowly."

The Rev. Mr. Stevenson, recalling his work in this field, pointed with pleasure to the many opportunities afforded him of co-operating with the nurses and officers of the local hospital.

P. C. Blauer, vice-president of the hospital organization, presented diplomas to the Misses May Amelia Salter, Mary M. Gall, Vena Jones, Hazel Greenleaf, Juanita Isenor, Bernice Beemer and Helen Whitten. At the same time, Blauer stressed the need for larger quarters and better equipment at the hospital.

Miss Edith Patten, superintendent of the hospital, graciously introduced the graduating class. She has worked tirelessly to equip them for their duties.

Dr. William W. pioneer woman physician, in presenting the hospital pins, referred to the graduating class as "sunshine girls," and spoke feelingly of the importance of the work these young men are to do.

Singer Is Applauded.

Prolonged applause greeted Madame Budrow, Spanish concert singer, who gave a group of four songs, and Robert L. Brown, local artist, who contributed three numbers. Brown sang "The Great Awakening," "Duna," and "Three for Jack." He was in splendid voice and his comedy number scored a distinct hit.

Madame Budrow, who has written the music for "Ramona," soon to be produced in Los Angeles, delighted her hearers with "Habenera," from Carmen; "An Open Secret," and a catchy composition of her own. The big audience refused to allow her to retire until she contributed the ever popular "La Paloma." Both singers were accompanied by Miss Ruth Armstrong, well known Santa Ana pianist.

Decorations, contributed by Morris the florist and others, and supervised by Mrs. D. A. Bear and Miss Bessie Lewis, were strikingly beautiful, with potted palms, carnations, roses and sweet peas predominating.

Presents Diplomas

F. C. Blauer, in presenting the diplomas, gave each nurse a bouquet of carnations, while Dr. Waffel presented each with a bouquet of sweet peas.

The invocation was by the Rev. Mr. Roberts, with the benediction by the Rev. Mr. Stevenson. Robert L. Brown led the audience in singing "America" at the close of the ceremonies.

WHITE SLAVERS USE FILMS AS LURE, VIEW

(By United Press Leased Wire)

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 28.—Federal authorities here today declared they would investigate reports from Dallas, Texas, that more than twenty girls have disappeared from Texas recently after being given to understand they would have a chance to enter the movies.

The authorities were not inclined to believe that the movie lure had been held out in all of the twenty cases.

From time to time various cases have been reported to the federal authorities in which the inducement to leave home was a promise to go into the movies.

All of these cases have been thoroughly investigated by department of justice agents to determine whether they were part of a widespread white slave plot.

Officials admitted today, however, that the reports that twenty girls had disappeared from Texas was cause for great concern in case it is conclusively proved that each has been approached by men representing themselves as movie agents. If this is true an organized white slave ring which is probably taking the girls over the Mexican border may exist, it was said.

Too Much of a Good Thing

"It is six years since I had my first stomach trouble. It rapidly grew worse. My food would not digest and I was reduced to skin and bone. On the advice of my druggist I tried May's Wonderful Remedy, and am now entirely well." SAVE MILLIONS BY SANE PLAN IN PRUNING, APPEAL OF ADVISOR

Farm Official, In Citrus Report, Cites Some Startling Figures

HUGE LOSS ANNUALLY
May Organize School for Pruners as Result of Meetings

Lost—one million dollars! But how?

Through indiscriminate pruning! Such is the startling statement of H. E. Wahlberg, Orange county farm advisor.

"Recent pruning demonstrations," said Wahlberg, "emphasized the need for standardization of pruning methods."

"Indiscriminate pruning practices in the citrus groves have cost the industry thousands of dollars in Orange county."

"It is not too much to say that approximately one million dollars was the loss during the past decade from undue heavy pruning."

"This applies to oranges as well as lemons."

Deplores Slashing.
"The common practice of many growers and commercial pruners is heavy slashing of wood which, ordinarily, results in disturbing the equilibrium of the tree growth and forces new wood growth."

"The ultimate purpose of pruning has thus far been defeated. Innumerable instances have been noted by the agricultural extension service where heavy pruning has been done as a seasonal practice, causing excessive sucker growth in the tops of trees."

"To make matters worse, this condition has been met by another heavy pruning the following season. Another thick bushy growth is the result."

"In some cases, this method has been followed in good faith, but unfortunately many pruners have followed the practice for the sake of a big showing."

"To some, a heavy pruning looks like a more complete job."

Standardization Needed.
"The recent series of pruning demonstrations held at Tustin, Garden Grove, Anaheim, La Habra, Yorba Linda and El Modena, crystallized the need for standardization."

This Wizard Makes Huckleberry Grow As Large as Plums

Speaking of fruit, here's the man who put the "huck" into huckleberries. Huckleberries an inch in diameter and almost as large as plums have been perfected by Dr. F. V. Coville, department of agriculture, Washington. He has been experimenting with the development of wild huckleberries for years.

ESCONDIDO HEN IN OREGON SETS FAST PACE FOR BIDDIES

An Escandido hen has won an enduring place in the chicken hall of fame. "Lady Ida," White Leghorn aristocrat from the Hudson poultry farm, in the Sunkist valley, now making her home with the Oregon Agricultural college, has a seven-year record of having produced 1034 eggs.

There are fewer than 15 hens in the United States with an official lifetime record of 1000 eggs, so the record of the Escandido "biddy" is particularly noteworthy.

PAYS $120 FOR 3 PEDIGREED LEGHORNS

Costa Mesa Poultryman Will Aim to Produce Prize Birds

For the ambitious man, always striving to better himself, there are possibilities almost unreamed of in the use of high grade breeding fowls with a long, unbroken pedigree of great egg producers behind them, according to J. F. Buttram, Costa Mesa poultryman, who has just received from the D. Tancred Poultry farms, Kent, Wash., three splendid white leghorns of the Imperial mating.

Buttram, who purchased two hens and a cockerel, paid $120 for the trio, basing his faith upon the excellent records made by the Tancred birds in the Northwest and throughout the country.

According to Buttram, the Imperial mating which has attracted so much attention because of the official laying records made from pullets bred from it, has been a fixture of D. Tancred for eight years.

Shows Big Improvement.
"It has been a success from the beginning, it is said, and has improved each year."

The first 300 egg hen that this strain is known to have produced was out of Imperial mating eggs. Frank Brewster's "Oregon Girl," hatched in 1916, made a remarkable record.

"It was shown in recent egg laying contests that only a Tancred can beat a Tancred," said Buttram.

"A pen of this strain, consisting of five pullets, laid 1384 eggs in 365 days. This was an average of 276 4-5 eggs per pullet, and established the pen record for the United States."

"Later, however, another pen of pure blood Tancred pullets broke the record held by this pen. The new record established was 1421 eggs in 365 days. This was an average of better than 284 eggs per pullet."

According to Buttram and W. R. Rittenhouse, both successful Costa Mesa poultrymen, poultry raising has developed so tremendously during the past decade that it now ranks next to the corn crop in annual value of its product, and is generally admitted to be one of the best paying branches of agriculture.

The Costa Mesa hatchery will increase its capacity from 8,000 to 25,000 eggs in order to take care of the increased demand for strictly high class baby chickens.

METROPOLITAN SETS INSURANCE RECORD

The Metropolitan Life Insurance company broke all records in amount of business done in the year 1922, according to a report published today. The amount of new business placed on the books exceeded the phenomenal year of 1920 and was far in excess of what had been done in 1921. The officers of the company believe that this certainly reflects improved business conditions.

Particularly significant is the fact that industrial insurance, which is taken largely by wage earners and their families, had such a great volume. The total amount of industrial insurance placed during the year was more than $775,000,000. The investment situation is also good. The income of the company increased by more than thirty-eight and a half million dollars that of 1921, reaching the total of $340,668,301.

The assets of the company increased $144,267,300 and at the end of the year stood at $1,259,859,325. The mortality increased somewhat as compared with the previous year, and the total number of claims paid was 365,276.

This was an average of one claim paid every 24 seconds of each business day of eight hours, or just about 1,000 a day during the year, including Sundays and holidays. The amount paid to policyholders averaged $803.81 a minute of each business day.

Along with this great increase on the business side, the welfare work done by the company, in behalf of the health of its industrial policyholders, kept pace. Metropolitan nurses made more than two million free visits to sick industrial policyholders, bringing the total number made since this service was inaugurated to more than sixteen million. The company has contributed altogether two hundred and seventy-two million booklets and pamphlets giving hints on hygiene and prevention of disease and this, in cooperation with the general activities which are widening each year on the part of all official and semi-official health organizations, has resulted in extending the life expectancy among industrial policyholders by eight and one-half years since 1911.

LAGUNA BEACH, Feb. 28.—On Thursday, March 1, Mrs. Edna Lee Rider and her pupils will give a program of classical dancing at the meeting of the Newport Woman's club, at the Newport 7-cen clubhouse.

Community Charity Chest Is Title Held by Secretary

Miss Hazel Newman has gained the cognomen of "Community Charity Chest" of the Orange county farm bureau staff at the farm bureau office on North Main street.

Her name and fame came to her unsolicited, or, more properly, through over-solicitation.

Miss Newman occupies the desk just inside the street door. All visitors must state their business to Miss Newman. If the visitor happens to be a beggar, Miss Newman's duty consists in giving him a nickel and preventing his entrance into the offices of Wahlberg, Cory, Whedon, et al.

"Orderly marketing," remarked Whedon, commented Wahlberg.

"Economy feeding," concluded Cory.

TREE PLANTING WEEK TO BE OBSERVED IN STATE MARCH 4-10TH

Arrangements have been completed to observe the week of March 4-10 as Tree Planting week in California. The plan includes the observance of Arbor Day, March 7, and is intended to lay stress on the necessity for encouraging the planting of trees along the highways, in school grounds and parks, and in private gardens.

Similar campaigns have been carried on in practically every state in the Union, with results so satisfactory that in nearly every instance it has been decided to repeat the plan next year.

The plan has received the endorsement of public officials and civic organizations wherever it has been tried.

Combined farm value of chickens raised and eggs produced in 1922 is estimated at $5,207,000, by the United States department of agriculture. Value in 1921 was $900,820,000.

About 543,000,000 chickens were raised on farms in 1922, with a farm value of $354,199,000, as compared with 510,000,000 chickens raised in 1921, valued at $362,233,000. Egg production totaled 1,962,365,000 dozen eggs, value $500,008,000, as compared with 1,837,486,000 dozen eggs, with a value of $538,567,000, in 1921.

Of the chicken eggs produced in 1922, large quantities were consumed in industries in the manufacture of other than food products, and about 112,000,000 dozen were used to produce chickens.

Average farm price of chickens raised in 1922 was 65c per fowl, compared with 71 cents in 1921, and with 86½c in 1920. The average farm price of chicken eggs was 25.5 cents a dozen in 1922, compared with 29.3 cents per dozen in 1921 and with 44.4 cents in 1920.

It is estimated there were 412,000,000 chickens on farms January 1, 1922, a time of year when the number of chicks is low. There were 386,000,000 chickens on farms January 1, 1921, and on January 1, 1920, there were 360,000,000.

NEW BILL AIMS TO BAN LIME SALE FRAUD

Senate Measure Referred to Committee on Agriculture

Designed to prevent fraud in the sale of agricultural lime and similar substances, a bill, listed in the senate as No. 35, has been introduced at Sacramento by Senator A. E. Osborne, H. E. Wahlberg, county farm advisor, announced here today.

"Orange county farmers," Wahlberg said, "will be particularly interested in this measure. The bill was introduced by a joint committee representative of the commercial fertilizer industry and the agricultural mineral industry."

"After consultations between a number of farmers' organizations, farm advisors and officials of the agricultural experiment station, it was decided that George P. Gray, chief of the division of chemistry of the state department of agriculture, should draft the measure."

Must Label Lots.
"In addition to the prevention of fraud in the sale of agricultural lime, marl, gypsum, sulphur and other minerals not now covered by law, the bill is aimed at raising the standard of such substances by requiring the labeling of every lot, giving the percentage of valuable constituents and the name of the purchaser or dealer."

"It will be self-supporting by means of license fees and tonnage taxes, and can be economically administered, the department declares, in conjunction with the fertilizer law, without any additional expense for supervision. The anticipated collections are estimated at about $10,000 a year, which will allow for employment of two inspectors and one chemist, and provide for necessary traveling expenses, chemical supplies and additional postage and printing."

"A number of farmers' organizations, farm advisors and officials of the agricultural experiment station have expressed their approval of such a law. The majority of those engaged in the industry are also heartily in favor of a law of this kind for their own protection against unfair competition."

Need Declared Evident.
"The need for the bill as proposed has been fully shown by investigation made by the division of chemistry of the state department of agriculture."

"It is estimated that in excess of 100,000 tons of agricultural minerals are sold in the state each year at prices ranging as high as $65 a ton."

"Many instances are known here where low grade lime has been sold at a price five to six times higher than the price at which a high grade lime could have been purchased."

Under present conditions, the purchaser has no means of detecting these frauds on account of the nature of the materials, the agricultural value of which cannot be judged except by chemical analysis. This bill provides that each lot or package be labeled, showing the percentage of each valuable constituent."

HECKE TO URGE REVISION OF STATUTES

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 28.—General revision of the statutes governing the control and development of agriculture in California will be recommended by Director G. H. Hecke of the state department of agriculture when the legislature convenes here early in March.

Hecke's proposed changes in the agricultural laws, as announced by him, are as follows:

1—Law relating to dairying and dairy products require complete revision.

2—New regulations must be devised to prevent the introduction of cattle diseases into the state.

3—A new law governing the shipment of frosted oranges is necessary and should be framed by representatives of the citrus industry.

4—New provisions must be inserted in present laws to provide for additional pest control work.

5—An emergency fund to finance pest control work should be created.

6—All agricultural laws of the state should undergo a codification.

PURPLE VETCH CIRCULAR IS AVAILABLE

A brief account of the history and seed production of purple vetch by Roland McKee, agronomist, is contained in department circular 256, just released by the United States department of agriculture.

Purple vetch has proved to be a valuable green-manuring crop for orchards and is much in demand by citrus growers of California.

Through efforts of the California Citrus Growers exchange, purple vetch seed is being produced under contract by growers in the Coos Bay region of western Oregon, where the conditions are particularly favorable, and also in northwestern California.

Copies of the circular may be had, upon request of the United States department of agriculture, Washington, D. C.

BIG CITRUS SURVEY TO BE PLANNED HERE

Preparation of a citrus survey of more than 200 orchards is to be brought before the citrus committee of the Orange county farm bureau here Friday at 2 p. m., H. E. Wahlberg, Orange county farm advisor, announced today.

Professor R. S. Vail, of the Riverside citrus experiment station, will make the report, Wahlberg said, covering fertilization, irrigation and kindred subjects included in the survey.

Dr. S. S. Twombly, Fullerton; S. S. Mertz, Hewes ranch; C. V. Newman, San Joaquin county company; L. O. Whitsett, county supervisor, and Joe Carroll, Anaheim, are members of the committee.

ALLOT 18 MILLION TO AID EXTENSION WORK IN 48 STATES

The total amount allotted for co-operative agricultural extension work in the 48 States in 1922-23 was approximately $18,821,000, of which the federal government contributed $5,880,000, under the provisions of the Smith-Lever act.

In addition, congress by direct appropriation to the department of agriculture, made available in round numbers $1,028,000 for farmers' co-operative demonstrations work and $45,000 for extension work by the several bureaus of the department, making a total from federal sources of $6,953,000.

The remaining $11,868,000 was derived from sources within the States.

Members of our party were astounded at the beauty of the scenery, the vigor and extensiveness of the groves, and the rapid expansion of the citrus industry.

It is difficult to describe the wonder of it all. Perhaps I had better begin at the fair, and take my readers, day by day, across the east coast to Miami, where I am writing this letter.

The South Florida fair is housed in permanent buildings, with a race track and grand stand. It is not merely a citrus fair. Everything from poultry and stock to country-cured hams and bacon may be found here. All things considered, this is the best fair I have ever attended.

If anyone questions that there are fifty-seven varieties of oranges grown in Florida, a stroll through the main exposition building will dispel any lingering doubts. George C. Roeding claims he counted seventy-five varieties!

Too Many Varieties?
In my humble opinion, however, the great number of varieties emphasizes a mistaken policy upon the part of the Florida growers. Aside from the kid glove varieties, there should be only two—the pineapple and the Valencia.

The two varieties furnish all that is best in Florida oranges and, if only these two were grown, I think Florida growers would profit.

Perhaps the three leading varieties are the Parson Brown, the pineapple and the Valencia. The Parson Brown is shipped from October to February, the pineapple from December to May, and the Valencia from March to June.

The Parson Brown is a pale, tasteless fruit, without acid or especial merit. Early shipping

California Visitors Cordially Welcomed In Popular Fruit Centers

By C. E. UTT
(With California Citrus Growers in Florida.)

Our train reached Tampa Tuesday at 10:30 a. m., four hours late. We were to learn that, in Florida, trains were expected to be late—and usually fulfilled expectations.

The clouds still wept copiously, but it was not so cold as in the Northern gulf region. We were assured, as usual, that the weather was "very unusual."

The South Florida fair was on in full blast at Tampa, and our California badges admitted us free as often as we desired to attend. Nothing seemed too good for us.

For the better part of two weeks we were the guests of the good people of Florida. We were royally entertained by various committees representing the civic bodies. Usually, we were given two banquets daily—with the accompanying speeches!

Members of our party were astounded at the beauty of the scenery, the vigor and extensiveness of the groves, and the rapid expansion of the citrus industry.

Care of the Eyes

BY DR. ROY S. HORTON
OPTOMETRIST

Watch Children's Eyes

The most critical time for our eyes is during the period from birth to about eight years of age. The younger we are the more closely we should be watched for early signs of eye trouble. Nature gives warning of anything wrong, but when a child is under five years of age, associating the trouble with the eyes is rather difficult for him. In a child there are three things that should be looked for.

First: During the first three months and especially the first three weeks, the baby's eyes should be closely watched for any signs of inflammation (redness) or discharge of pus. The lustre and brightness of an infant's eyes is always marvelous and any departure from this appearance should be called to the physician's attention at once. The majority of the cases of blindness today can be traced to an oversight on the part of the parents during the early part of the infant's life.

As the child grows older he begins to associate his various senses. His eyes will follow shadows, lights and bright colors. He will reach for various objects and at first attempts he may present a funny spectacle trying to grasp a ball or similar object. He sees, hears, feels and without doubt endeavors to taste his favorite rattle. If a child's eyes do not follow moving objects it is an indication that he is not developing his sense of sight, and it should be brought to a doctor's notice.

Glasses on Tiny Toddlers

Second: Many of us wonder and comment on the fact when we see a child toddling around with spectacles on, and we exclaim in protest when an infant in swaddling clothes appears in spectacles, and then we pause to marvel that he seems perfectly contented to leave them in place in front of his eyes. These two cases just mentioned are cases for glasses before the school age is reached.

A mother is quite apt to notice if there is a "cast" to her child's eyes. In many cases the eyes may turn in toward the nose. Maybe both eyes turn, again one eye may fix the object and its mate may turn either in or out. This turning is called a deviation, technically a strabismus. Often the deviation is slight and arguments arise as to whether the child's eyes are straight or not. In fact, they have arisen in my office.

To discover whether the eyes are straight or not, requires but a simple test, known as the cover test. The child is asked to look at some object across the room, and while he is looking first one eye and then the other is covered with a card. At the same time the eyes are watched very closely for any movement. If one eye is turning in or out, it will turn to fix upon the object when its fellow is covered up. For instance, if the right eye turns in, when the left eye is covered up, the right eye will be seen to rotate outward until it fixes on the object.

FULLERTON COUNCIL APPROVES SITES FOR 3 SERVICE STATIONS

FULLERTON, Feb. 28.—Pressure today was being brought to bear upon the members of the committee, appointed jointly by the chamber of commerce and the city council to consider the zoning plan for the city of Fullerton, to have that body speed up action on the matter.

The city council last night, in view of the fact that the zoning plan has not been put into effect, was forced to approve applications for three service station locations in what is described as the residential section of the city. Under the zoning plan "industries" such as filling stations, would be kept within stipulated boundaries.

The zoning plan is being favored by those who say it would preserve the beauty of the city and prevent the encroachment of business into the residential district.

Mayor William Coulter has announced that until the zoning ordinance has been passed finally he cannot see how permission to erect the service stations can be refused.

CIVIC CLUB MEETS FRIDAY AFTERNOON

GARDEN GROVE, Feb. 28.—The Woman's Civic club will have their afternoon meeting Friday, March 2. Mrs. Kapp, of Barker Brothers will give a talk on interior decorating. The meeting will open promptly at 2 o'clock, as Mrs. Kapp can stay but a short time.

The dramatic section of the club gave a delightful entertainment at the Y. M. C. A. hall Friday evening. One of the features of the evening was a spelling match. Pupils of the Katella school, directed by Mrs. Carl Nichols, gave an interpretation of the minut dance, which was very prettily carried out.

The high school orchestra rendered some selections, directed by Miss Thornberg. Mrs. Irvine German sang two numbers, accompanied by Mr. German. Other numbers on the program were piano selections by Miss Cuba Carner and three little daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Anson Mott.

THE WELL-KNOWN MEDICINE OF THE FAMOUS RECEPT BOOK AUTHOR

PILES!

There is no suffering like the torture from piles. This continual suffering reacts upon the nervous system and may eventually cause a complete physical breakdown. It is not necessary to endure the torture from piles when quick, sure relief is right at hand. Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment relieves piles at once—and not only that, when this treatment is persisted in, it affords lasting benefit. Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment is nationally famous as a remedy for piles, hemorrhoids, ring worm, sore feet, insect bites, pimples, blackheads, chafing, chapped hands, chilblains, frost bite and all skin irritations. Read what Arthur Fleury of 63 Ruth St., New Bedford, Mass. says:

"I used Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment for Piles and got relief from it. That is about fifteen years ago and I always use Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment when another attack of Piles is coming on me. There is no better Medicine for Piles that I know of that will give you better relief."

You can buy Dr. Chase's Ointment at all drug stores. To be sure of getting the genuine, see that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M.D. are on each box and your protection against imitations.

ANDREWS HELD AS DEFRAUDER OF WOMAN

Accused of obtaining approximately $50,000 under false pretenses from Mrs. Agnes Newman, 80, wealthy Los Angeles widow, Linwood M. Andrews, of Santa Ana and Laguna Beach, was today making preparations to defend himself in superior court in Los Angeles.

He was held to answer by Justice Forbes in Los Angeles yesterday, at the conclusion of a preliminary hearing.

Mrs. Newman testified that Andrews persuaded her to relinquish her 1250 shares in the Portland Milling company, worth $40,000, a note for $6,500 and later $4,500 in cash.

He said that part of the money was to be her share in a "pool" formed to buy real estate in Santa Monica. When the investments failed to materialize, Andrews was arrested.

Deputy District Attorney Mortimer Kline prosecuted the case against Andrews, while he was defended by Attorney S. W. Thompson. He was released under $2,000 bail. This sum was set, it was said, because the defendant had already turned over to the woman most of the money he was said to have received.

Andrews was arrested at Laguna Beach, and has visited here frequently since he was released under bond.

S. A. ROTARIANS SET MARK IN ATTENDANCE

The new world's record for Class C Rotary clubs remains tightly in the grasp of the Santa Ana club, it was learned today. This record, for consecutive 100 per cent meetings, based on attendance, is fourteen.

And there the record will remain, probably for months, for no other club in the world has come closer than ten consecutive meetings.

The chain of 100 per cent meetings of the Santa Ana club was broken last week. A recently promulgated Rotary rule is that a member must be present at least sixty per cent of the time of the meeting, if his attendance is to count. "Checking in"—merely a minute's presence, had previously been permissible. Unfamiliar with the new ruling, a club member failed to make his attendance during the past week.

Will Tell World. Santa Ana Rotarians, elated over their standing, are to go to a district conference to be held soon carrying a banner showing that their club has the world's record. The record, until broken by Santa Ana, was ten, held by a Pennsylvania club. A class C club is one that has between fifty and 100 members.

"That Something." "That there is in every man 'that something,' which if aroused and given play will lead him on to success and achievement, is the theme of a story read effectively before the Rotary club yesterday by Ernest Crozier Phillips, director of the Santa Ana Community Players. Originated at Tacoma.

This story, put out by the Rotary club of Tacoma, tells of a man who was "down and out" and in whose breast was aroused "that something" in the way of confidence and willingness to try.

Bringing the theme of the story into practical application, came a lecture by George Wessel, of Los Angeles, on "Sales and Service Standards." He pointed out that it is "that something" in a clerk that makes him a good salesman. In addition to that, Wessel urged, a study should be made of sales methods. He stated that the successful salesman is the one who meets a customer and makes his personality felt, who does not use hackneyed phrases such as "something for you?" but who answers the customer's question before it is asked.

The chairman of the program was C. H. Chapman.

BROTHER HONORED AT LAGUNA AFFAIR

LAGUNA BEACH, Feb. 28.—William Noble gave a motor-lunch-con-bridge birthday party for his brother, John Noble, Monday. Those who made up the party were Mr. and Mrs. John Noble of Altadena, Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Jacobs and Miss Havens of Akron, O., Mrs. Robert Milligan of San Francisco, Mrs. T. B. Wright and Miss Frances Wright of Pasadena, Miss Stella and Louise Noble and Miss Clara Smith of Altadena. The party motored down from Altadena in the morning and lunched at the Raven.

After luncheon they drove to a favorite spot on the beach and, setting up bridge tables, which they had with them, they played bridge until 5 o'clock.

Miss Clara Smith carried off the prize, not an unusual feat for her. The sea gulls have seen many things, but never a bridge party on the beach before.

FARMER ACCIDENTALLY SHOT. NELIGH, Neb., Feb. 28.—Cash Ellington, 42, prominent farmer of Antelope county, was instantly killed by the accidental discharge of a shotgun in a lumber wagon in which he was riding.

PROVES FLORIDA IS RICH IN YIELD OF ORANGE GRAPEFRUIT

seems to be its chief recommendation. The pineapple is highly colored and has a fine flavor. The Valencia also has a good flavor.

As a rule, Florida oranges are much juicier than the California fruit. They are thin-skinned and full of seeds; and the "rag" is very tough. Eating one without getting into a bath tub is a problem.

I am particular concerning oranges. Excepting on the Mexican plateau, I have never eaten oranges I thought were the equal of our best California fruit. I should not care to eat of fifty per cent of the fruit we market, and, by the same token, I doubt whether I would take the second orange out of seventy-five per cent of the Florida fruit.

Fruit Compares Favorably. During this trip I have found much fruit of good color and flavor, better than our average California fruit, and a close second to our best. I shall not enumerate the many varieties on exhibit, but will only mention the navel, Jaffa, Blood, St. Michael and Mediterranean Sweet, as among those familiar to the growers of California.

The Lue Gim Gong is usually considered a Valencia, as is also the Hart's Tardit. There is a new Eldorado holding the stage in Florida. It is known as the Temple orange. This is of a high color and of the kid glove variety. It is larger than the King, the next largest of this variety.

Florida growers seem to be divided regarding value of this variety. One contingent boasts it, another knocks it. Personally, I do not take kindly to kid glove oranges. They do not keep well. Besides, I like other oranges better. At present, however, the King is said to be selling for more money than any other variety.

As for grapefruit, there are endless varieties—all very seedy. Florida grapefruit cannot be described. You have got to eat it, drink it, yea, bathe, in it, to appreciate it.

Florida grows and sells about thirty times as much grapefruit as we do.

Such lemons as were on exhibition were of an inferior appearance, as compared with our own. I have seen but two small lemons. And yet, although it is quite generally believed that Florida will never be a great lemon-producing state, I am inclined to think lemons might be grown with profit in the southern section of the state.

Generally speaking, Florida oranges do not present so fine an appearance as the California fruit. They are heavier, the skins are thinner, and they are more juicy. They are also much tougher and full of seeds.

Shows Great Wealth. According to Florida's chief executive, who made a speech at the fair, this state is producing annually three hundred and sixty-five million dollars of wealth, or, as the governor put it, one million dollars daily. He added that the state has two hundred thousand acres devoted to citrus fruits—with two million acres in reserve! I do not think he overestimated in the slightest.

Thursday, we made an excursion forty miles by boat, down the Tampa Bay to Manatee county. At Palmetto, we were met by representatives of that town, Bradentown and Manatee, who joined in entertaining us. We were served one of the best dinners we have had on the trip. We visited the famous Atwood grapefruit grove, which has been extensively advertised.

Groves in this section are on low, wet land, which is drained, and the trees are on ridges. The water level is about two feet from the surface. This is unusual in Florida. It is impossible for me to describe the glories we saw.

SAVE MILLIONS BY SANE PLAN IN PRUNING

ization. "Many of the several hundred growers attending this series were emphatic in their requests for more information on tree physiology and relation of fruit production to pruning.

"These requests have been filed by the farm advisor and will be submitted to the citrus committee of the farm bureau for action. "It is hoped that a school for professional pruners and growers interested may be organized later in the year to bring about a better understanding of the nature of tree growth and its relation to pruning.

"If such a school is held regularly each season, the result should be a better and standardized pruning practice."

'LET THEM FIGHT'
URGES EX-CHAMPIONTalk of Foul Fighting May Ruin American Boxing
Warns McAuliffe

By HENRY L. FARRELL.
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—"Let 'em keep up this easy talk about foul fighting and our fighters will turn out to be as bad as the English boys," Jack McAuliffe, the old lightweight king, said today.

"England hasn't had a fighter for years because they have so many rules over there the boys can't fight. Just as soon as they get going good, the referee, perched on a stool outside the ring, warns 'stop it' and they stop and step back.

"This Gene Tunney howling about Harry Greb's foul fighting makes me sick. A great big fellow like Tunney ought to be ashamed of himself to ask the referee to make a little fellow like Greb stop fouling him. If Tunney had been fighting in our day, he would have fouled back and if he fouled back harder, he would have stopped Greb.

"With big gloves like they wear now, it is ridiculous to howl about gouging and heeling. In my day when they fought with skin tight gloves you could knock a man out by heeling him, but with these big gloves you can't do more than scratch your opponent's face with the faces. As far as being gouged in the eye—well, if that big Tunney lets anyone gouge him in the eyes and get away with it, he isn't going to be a champion any more. I'll bet it after the first time.

"No one ever heard Jack Dempsey or any of the real fighters talk about being fouled in those silly ways. A real fighter will make a foul fighter quit before he gets started.

"There are too many rules now. There should be no rule against holding and hitting because it is a part of the real fighting. As long as either man can do anything in a clinch, they ought not to be separated. Only when both are blocked completely it is a real clinch.

"America has been taking the lead among the world's nations in the production of real fighters because the Americans were allowed to fight.

HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS
TRIM COLLEGE NINE

After a torrid ninth inning rally on the part of both teams and during which a total of nineteen runs were scored, the junior girls indoor baseball team of the Santa Ana high school yesterday afternoon defeated the junior college aggregation by the score of 30 to 27.

The score at the beginning of the last spasm was 20 to 18 in favor of the high school girls. The juniors rolled up ten tallies in their half of the frame and the collegeans came back with seven.

The Misses Plavan, Kettle, Frye, Plavan, Langley, Harvey, Batty, Delming and McCord formed the J. C. team. The Misses Dunn, Lonsford, Cartwright, Ellett, Flood, Noe, Grant, Prichard, Anderson and Bowe played for the junior girls.

WHITTIER STATE MEN
WIN FROM FULLERTON

At Whittier yesterday afternoon, the Whittier State school baseball nine trimmed Fullerton 6 to 4 in a close and exciting game. Fullerton looked like the goods in the third inning when the lads piled up three runs and forged into the lead.

Whittier, however, was not out to lose, for the boys came back strong in the fourth, scoring three runs through a batting flurry. One of these runs was a circuit clout by McLaughlin. After the fifth inning the opposing heavers settled down to effective work and no more runs were scored. The score:

Fullerton 013 000 000—4
Whittier State 020 310 006—6
Batteries—Whittier, Schultz, Vincent and Barone; Fullerton, Boissere and Dunbar. Umpire, Poetch.

HARRISBURG, Pa.—Joe Lynch, bantamweight champion, won an eight round decision from Peter Music, Harrisburg.

GOSSIP of the RING

Charley White is the mystery man of the ring.

No fighter in the history of the sport has had a more erratic career than the Chicago lightweight.

The possessor of a fine physique, the ideal build for a fighter, packing a deadly punch in the left hand, able to take punishment and endowed by nature with plenty of courage, White has been the Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde of the ring.

No fighter has been more touted as a champion possibility than White. As a featherweight he was looked upon as a champ. When he outgrew that division without having landed the title, the fistic experts immediately began to hand over to him the lightweight laurels.

Freddie Welsh was the holder of the lightweight title when White was regarded at the top of his game. Welsh, always clever, and a great ring general, never won much fame as a knockout artist. White in those days, as now, "knocked 'em dead when he hit them on the button," to use the slang of the ring.

It was felt that the first time White got into the same ring with Welsh the title would change hands. White was sure to wear Welsh down, and then slip over the knockout punch, was the view of a majority of the fistic experts.

White got the big chance, in fact a couple of chances against Welsh, but failed miserably to make good the many big things that were predicted for him. Welsh, who was a knockout artist, gently tapping him as he pleased, and never gave White a single opportunity to put over the sleep-producing wallop.

Benny Leonard won the title from Welsh. In due time White secured a bout with Leonard. He was given an outside chance by the experts. At one stage of the fight he had more than a chance, the championship was within his reach, but he let old opportunity slip away. A few rounds later Leonard knocked him out.

Having worked himself back into the good graces of the promoters by his fine showing in a number of bouts, White was in a position for a second meeting with Leonard. Recently he took a bout with Rocky Kansas to fill in. Kansas, last summer, was stopped by Leonard at Michigan City, Ind.

White figured on disposing of Kansas in handy fashion and then forcing Leonard into another championship bout. Kansas decisively defeated White, who was a 3 to 1 favorite. White, who has had a half dozen shots at the championship, sees another opportunity gone glimmering.

White's real trouble is lack of co-ordination. The mind and the hand that packs the punch constantly clash. He gets an opponent on the ropes and then lets him recover. Co-ordination would have made White one of the greatest fighters in the history of the ring. Lacking it he continues to remain a mere possibility for championship honors.

BLACK WOLFS TRIM
TROJAN BASKETERS

The Black Wolf's were too strong for the Trojans in the only Senior Y. M. C. A. league basketball gamethat was played on the "Y" courts here last night, and defeated their opponents by the score of 21 to 2.

The Two-Tees forfeited to the D. M. C's.

The lineup:
Black Wolf's
Golden F..... Carmichael
Cook F..... Goodwin
Young C..... Blake
Norman G..... Basham
Spicer G..... Byler
Dillenbeck, Vieira, Morris and Finley substituted during the melee for the Black Wolf's.

The volley ball teams of the Santa Ana Kiwanis and Lions clubs are scheduled to battle at 7:30 o'clock tonight. The game will be played as a result of a challenge recently hurled at the Kiwanis men by the Lions volley ball experts.

CARPENTIER, SIKI
SIGN FOR 20 ROUND
FIGHT FOR SUMMER

PARIS, Feb. 28.—George Carpentier and Battling Siki signed for a twenty round fight between May and September of this year, in which all the titles held by either are to be at stake.

The bout, in which Carpentier will have a chance to regain the titles of light heavyweight champion of the world and heavyweight champion of Europe, taken by Siki when the black beat "Georgieus" Georges last fall, will be held in Paris.

FULLERTON TO PLAY
FOR BASKET TITLEUndeclared Sweetwater Hi
Outfit Comes to North County City Friday

The Fullerton high school basketball team, champions of the Orange league and undefeated this season to date, will meet the Sweetwater Union high school quintet at Fullerton Friday afternoon in the first play-off game for the Southern California title. The tilt will begin at 8 o'clock.

Composed entirely of veterans from last year's five which was only defeated in the final round for the Southland championship, the Fullerton team, under the direction of Coach Glenn Lewis, has a good chance to sweep through and capture the bunting this year, it is believed.

During the first round of the Orange league play none of the gives in this section gave the north county aggregation much competition although in the last few games Lewis' men, handicapped by the loss of several stars through illness, had narrow escapes.

With the return of Shipkey and Arroues, however, the Fullerton team is in good condition again and will enter the brawl with Sweetwater with its full strength.

Arroues, Hezmalhalch will take care of the forward positions, Kraemer will cavort at center, and Shipkey and Captain Carpenter will be at the guards.

The Sweetwater players will leave for the north Thursday afternoon. Having won the San Diego County league championship and beaten the Imperial high five, the Sweetwater players, who have not lost a game this season, are confident of victory. However, Coach Hoskins is not letting them get overconfident and is training them hard at Sweetwater for the big game. The team has won eight straight victories to date and has beaten everything in this section but San Diego high school. Conflicts in playing dates have made it impossible for Hoskins to arrange a game with Coach John Perry's Hilltop quintet, the clash scheduled early in the season having been cancelled by the Blue and White management.

Coach Hoskins will take Robb and Miller, forward; James, center; Garner and Bullen, guards, and two utility men in Thurber and Porter, on the northern trip. Thurber has been starring on the 130-pound team and is a fast player. James, who ran the Sweetwater football eleven from the quarterback position, is the big noise of the basketball team.

JUNIOR HIGH TEAM
LOSES TO ANAHEIM

The Anaheim grammar school basketball team defeated the local junior high eight grade team in a league game yesterday, 16 to 9.

TOM JOVICK

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 28.—Tom Jovick, the Gonzaga University youngster, who will understudy Earl Sheely in the White Sox training camp at Seguin, Tex., this spring, is casting aside ambition to take his trial in the big time of baseball. Jovick may properly be considered a sacrifice on the altar of family and alma mater.

Jovick's ambition, up to the time that the decision to accept the White Sox contract was made, was to be the finest college first baseman on the Pacific Coast. He was near realization of that ambition because it is not at all probable that any other collegian on the Pacific Coast could have kept step with the brilliant Gonzaga youngster this year.

Jovick is taking his trial in the American League because he wants to give to two younger brothers the educational advantages that he has had, and which his parents are unable to give them while Tom is in school, and because he wants to bring fame to his alma mater if it is in the cards that he will remain in the big leagues.

Jovick chose the White Sox out of six offers from major and Class AA clubs, because he wants to understudy Sheely. Sheely's home is in Spokane, and Jovick, since his prep days, has been an ardent admirer of the big White Sox first baseman. He does not expect to beat Sheely for the initial sack assignment, but he does expect to show enough stuff to be kept with the Sox and given an opportunity of studying Sheely and major league baseball.

LAGUNA PIANO RECITAL
LAGUNA BEACH, Feb. 28.—Adelaide Gosnell will give a piano recital before the Woman's Club of Laguna Beach, next Friday, March 2, at the art gallery, to which the public is invited. After the recital, the ladies of the club and their friends will have luncheon at the new tea house, the Tea and Tiffin Art Shoppe.

IRVINE BASEBALL CLUB TO CLASH WITH ANGELS OF COAST LEAGUE NEXT SUNDAY

The Irvine baseball club, champions of the Orange County Harbor league and regarded as one of the fastest amateur teams in Southern California, will play the Los Angeles club of the Pacific Coast league at Irvine next Sunday afternoon, according to an announcement today by A. J. Trickey, manager of the Orange county organization.

Trickey yesterday went to Elsinore Hot Springs where the Angels are engaging in their training practice for the coming Coast league campaign and completed arrangements for the tilt with Wade Killefer, chief mogul of the Seaph clan.

Killefer, who believes that plenty of games is the best conditioning process for his ball players, readily agreed to bring his troupe of diamond artists to Irvine for the contest.

"Radiant Red" himself will be in charge of the Angel invaders and he probably will bring half a dozen of his regulars to work at least part of the fray. While most of the team will be composed of his rookies such men as Charlie Deal, and Marty Krug, former Chicago Cub infielders, Tony Rego, star catcher, and Billy McCabe and Dixie Carroll are expected to add additional flavor to the melée.

Hillard ("Toughy") Tyrrell, Santa Ana boy, who is with the Angels will be with the band of visitors and since it is expected a big bunch of local bugs will be on hand to see him work Killefer is expected to keep him in the game throughout the encounter. "Bullet" Walters, sensational young infielder, and Ahlmbren, who has been displaying some flossy flinging, will be seen in action.

Although "Dutch" Hinrichs, the big right hander who won seven consecutive games for Irvine during the latter part of the Harbor league race, is now a full fledged member of the Los Angeles club Killefer has promised to allow him to strut his stuff with his old club for this game.

Hinrichs To Pitch
Killefer has taken a great interest in the former U. S. C. heaver and expects him to make the grade as an Angel regular. The Angel-Irvine tilt will enable Hinrichs to show his red haired boss just how good he really can be when he stacks up against a horde of heavy sluggers.

If "Dutch" has any trouble disposing of his new teammates Trickey has a couple of reliable relief hurlers to work in the box in Beck Lanfranco and Perry Calahan, former Fullerton high school baseball and football star. The regular Irvine lineup will be used, Trickey announced. The game will get under way about 2:30 o'clock.

PARIS EDITOR IS CANED
PARIS, Feb. 28.—When Pierre de Jumilhac, former aviation captain, thought he had been libeled by an article in a Paris weekly, he didn't take his grievance into court. Instead, he ambushed Georges Anquetil, the offending editor, in a park and beat him so severely with a cane he had to be taken to a hospital.

PARIS CAFE SUED
PARIS, Feb. 28.—Singers in the Pie Qui Chante, famous Montmartre cabaret, made a hit with a song jeering Madame Maria Verone, woman lawyer and feminist leader. She sued. Judge awarded her $50 damages.

EVENING SALUTATION

I think that to have known one good old man—one man, who, through the chances and mischances of a long life, has carried his heart in his hand, like a palm branch, waving all discords into peace—helps our faith in God, in ourselves, and in each other more than many sermons.

—G. W. Curtis.

SECURE CUT-OVER AREAS

Pointing to the annual report of the National Forest Reservation commission, transmitted to the United States senate by the Secretary of War, Francis Cuttle, of Riverside, president of the Water Conservation association of San Bernardino, Riverside and Orange counties, again calls attention to the fact that California is fast cutting its forests and is doing virtually nothing to acquire and grow new forests upon cut-over areas.

The report of the National Forest Reservation commission has this:

"The production of timber in the United States reached its maximum about 1907 with an output of more than forty billion feet of saw timber. This date marked the maximum output of lumber in the northeastern states, following two years later by the maximum cut in the southeastern states, while about the same time began the shifting of production from the Atlantic to the northwestern Pacific states. That is, after this time the Atlantic states were no longer able to maintain fully the demand of the northeast, which is the region of largest consumption, and the Pacific coast supplied the balance.

"With the shifting of production to the northwest coast we begin to draw upon our last source of supply. Successively the seat of maximum production has been shifted from Maine to New York, to Pennsylvania, to Wisconsin, to Minnesota, to Michigan, to Mississippi, to Louisiana, to Washington and it is now in Oregon. This is the last stand. There can be nothing further. Today the combined cut of Maine, New York and Pennsylvania, each of which at one time has led in production, is insufficient to meet the timber requirements of the single state of Pennsylvania, and the entire cut of the state of Pennsylvania is insufficient to meet the needs of the Pittsburgh district.

"Since the inception of this work (of the National Forest Reservation commission) there has been in the United States an increase of about seventy million acres of cut-over, burned and devastated lands, bringing the total area up to about two hundred thirteen million acres. Of this enormous amount, and excluding the national forests created from public domain, only about ten million acres of land are being adequately protected and managed by private interests."

It is further pointed out in the report that by 1935 or 1940 the lumber supply of the United States will be almost gone.

Acquisition of cut-over lands by state and national government is one way by which the darkness of the future as shown in this picture can be lightened.

There should be no hesitancy in California in adopting a policy of taking state title to all available forest lands. It is the practice of a number of large lumber corporations in this state to quit paying taxes on areas from which they have cut the timber. These lands could be acquired by the state by the simple process of enacting a law providing that title to cut-over areas on which taxes are delinquent shall go immediately to the state without recourse to redemption. This policy was advocated in this state in 1911 and 1913 by the State Conservation commission.

At the present time, many friends of forest conservation are disquieted by reason of the cutting of the state budget item for the State Forestry department. Ex-Governor George C. Pardee resigned as president of the State Board of Forestry because the budget cut the funds available for carrying on the work of the department. Under the budget, money necessary for protecting our forests is not available, to say nothing of the absence of funds for acquiring forest lands.

The report of the National Forest Reservation commission brings the situation acutely to our attention. It may be the American fashion so far as public resources are concerned to lock the barn door after the horse is gone, but it is a deplorable fashion and one from which we, since our eyes are opened, should break away without hesitation.

AMATEURS VS. SPECIALISTS

The weakness of any form of city government which does not provide for the appointment of all or nearly all executive officers is in trying to elect experts to have charge of more or less technical work. The strength of the City-Manager plan lies in the appointment of experts for technical positions.

Seldom, if ever, can the voters make the proper selection of a man to do technical work. Voters themselves rarely possess the information necessary to determine the fitness of a candidate for specialized operations.

For instance, it would be impractical for the voters of Santa Ana to elect an expert superintendent of schools. Should the school superintendency become an elective office, the superintendent's qualification as an educator would be subordinated to that of a politician. Acceptable experts must be selected, not elected.

The people should determine the policy of government by ballot. They should decide whether a sewer system is to be built, a new water system is to be constructed, or whether any other public enterprise should be undertaken. But when it comes to finding the honest, competent available man to plan and execute the enterprise, that should not be left to the precarious method of a popular election.

DR. BALL'S FOUR BILLS

No one can accuse Dr. C. D. Ball, assemblyman from Orange county, with having broken the speed limit in introducing bills at the state legislature. His record lies the other way. That is, he holds the record among eighty assemblymen for having introduced the least number of bills. Of more than 1500 bills introduced during January, Dr. Ball introduced but four, and the assemblyman who is next to him in the small number of bills introduced put in sixteen bills.

Dr. Ball is convinced that consideration of a bill should be given by a legislator before it is introduced, and unless it is decidedly meritorious it ought not to be introduced at all.

And, of course, he is right. In every session hundreds of measures are introduced that have no passage. Some of them are introduced his constituents; explanations of why they didn't pass can be devised later. There are scores and scores of duplications. The menace of the flood of bills is that, while good legislation is going through, many measures that are pernicious also get through. It would be far better for the people of California if there were eighty assemblymen who, like Dr. Ball, would endeavor to introduce as few bills as possible instead of trying to get in measures to cover every vagrant thought and freak hobby that may come to mind.

AN APPEAL TO PUBLIC SPIRIT

Whether the proposed special city charter, to be voted upon April 17, shall be adopted or rejected, it behooves the citizens of Santa Ana to take a real, active, effective interest in the selection of candidates for City Trustees, to be elected April 9. The men selected on that date will serve for one year, at least, and if they are the right kind of men, and will stand for re-election at the time the charter—in the event of its adoption—takes effect they will almost certainly be re-elected.

Always it is wise to get the very best men available as City Trustees; and at the election of April 9 it is especially desirable to do so, in view of the probable adoption of the proposed special city charter, providing for the City Manager form of city government, and of the fact that the City Trustees elected on April 9 will be the natural and logical candidates for re-election at the time the charter, if adopted, will become effective.

The Register believes the City Manager form of government is correct in principle. It advocates the adoption of the proposed special charter, knowing that the City Manager form of government can prove a blessing or a curse, but firmly believing it will prove a blessing. Which it shall be depends very largely on the measure of interest taken by the unselfish, public-spirited citizens of Santa Ana in the selection of men who will elect the City Manager and determine the policies by which his action shall be governed.

In the situation which presents itself, the office should seek the man—not the man the office. Santa Ana wants the biggest and broadest men obtainable. Citizens of that type are not likely to be found seeking public office. We must go after them with an appeal to their civic pride and sense of public duty. The councilmanic positions are not financially remunerative. They were made purposely so. The spirit of the proposed special charter contemplates unselfish public service on the part of the councilmen, and this can be obtained very rarely except at a sacrifice on the part of those who fill the ideals of the position.

Now Twice 1569 Days

San Bernardino Sun.
There is an ironic significance in the reflection that on Monday the world had passed since the armistice a period equal to the period spent at war—1569 days, approximately 51 months. The first period was devoted to destruction, the second theoretically to construction.

To Europe, at least, the accounting is a grim one. In war sacrifice could be expected, while in the hour of peace men and women not unnaturally anticipate relaxation and a relative freedom from anxiety.

It is difficult to see where Europe has enjoyed, for the peace of a single day, either relaxation or freedom from anxiety. To most people over there it must seem a bitter truth that the war has never ended, or that its miseries were only worse by a degree than those of the peace that followed it. One period began with the Germans entering Belgium and France, where they remained four years, the second period ends with the French and Belgians occupying German soil, where they threaten to remain indefinitely. There is no sign of peace in that, for even the treaty which was to sum up the first period and resolve the second into peace and reconstruction remains unfulfilled simply because it never was possible to fulfill it.

If civilization wanted an object lesson of its madness it has it in this bitter period of war's aftermath. The hysteria is gone; the flame of patriotic emotion has dwindled to its steady, normal size; the crisis of nightly bayonet attack is gone; but in place of it is the blind, dissatisfied, vengeful, suspicion of neighbor against neighbor, and group against group. Who in Europe knows its friends? Britain presumably stands with France in the Near East, and against her in the Ruhr; Italy was with France yesterday, and draws aside today; Belgium marches with France now while her statesmen debate gravely whether they may be in error.

So closes the second period. After another 1569 days devoted to interrupting the past, militarism, so far from being prostrate, has civilization thrust to the very brink of another war.

To Move Crops Better

Pasadena Star-News.
California growers of fruits and vegetables suffered heavy losses last year because of inadequate transportation facilities. Strike of railroad workers had something to do with this. But the railroads did not have sufficient rolling stock and other equipment. Growers complained bitterly. Railroads now are promising much better facilities for marketing this year's crops.

So far as the Southern Pacific is concerned, Julius Kruttschnitt, chairman of its board of directors, gives assurance that "everything possible is being done to place the Southern Pacific lines in a more advantageous and efficient position to serve the needs of California and the Southwest in the coming crop-moving season." Mr. Kruttschnitt says that whatever money and foresight can do, his road is doing in an earnest attempt to remedy such disastrous losses to growers and shippers last year. Heavy purchases are being made of refrigerator equipment, freight cars and locomotives and the roadbed is being put in better condition for fast moving of perishable products. Other transcontinental lines also are amplifying their equipment and there is prospect of better things for growers this year.

Condemn Filibuster

Long Beach Press.
The United States Senate is making a miserable spectacle of itself by permitting a filibuster which is no more dignified than the antics of a bunch of clowns in a circus. Serious legislative business is blocked while men who are supposed to represent their respective states and the whole Nation with acumen and dignity play the part of harlequins. It is a scene to fill sober-minded Americans with indignation and loathing.

Public sentiment should be arrayed against this profligate wasting of time and money—for expenses go on while Congress sits. There should be such a deluge of petitions and protests from every part of the country as would impel the Senate to amend its rules to provide for cloture on reasonable basis. Filibustering by minorities should be made impossible in both houses of Congress.

The people have right to expect and to demand from Congress diligent attention to public business; reasonable dispatch in the transaction of business; and dignity in all proceedings, with democratic ideals of majority rule prevailing at all times.

What Add a Sideline?

The Red Bear Stirs

Five hundred thousands will die from hunger and diseases caused by under-nourishment, this year, before the 1923 crops are harvested.

We get this in a letter William Garner, former American newspaperman, now commencing the American relief organization in Russia.

Five hundred thousand seem like a big figure, and it is. But in the autumn of 1921 24 millions were starving in the Russian famine districts, their total population of 42 millions.

In the year that follows Garner, not more than 1,500,000 Russians died from famine, this is the estimate of some of the leading American officials have been feeding the hungry over there.

American relief broke backbone of the famine. The lives we saved probably run in millions. A good job, well done.

One of the greatest ills to Russian recovery, says Garner, is that so many horses, sheep and goats were killed for food. American relief, he put the brakes on that.

Garner writes: "Russia will not be able to feed its children properly until the cows are brought up to the normal number. And it will not be able to take advantage of its available agricultural land until its horses are again equal to their pre-war number or replaced by cars and tractors."

Garner's report struck as interesting enough to pass along, especially because it conveys the idea that a lot of the reports from Russia have been exaggerated. He quotes American officials as estimating that the number of Russians actually starving this winter does not exceed 5,000,000. Our charity representatives have the situation in hand about all as could be expected, both in the matter of food and medicine. For one thing, the cholera and typhus epidemics are under control.

Garner sums up the general Russian situation by saying that there has been a pronounced change for the better. The people are as badly clothed as ever. But they seem animated by a more energetic spirit. "They are more and more the air of having something to do, whereas a year ago they had the appearance of having nothing to do." and nothing to look forward to.

"The change for the better may be noticed in the shop windows, in the fact that the streets are cleaner. Railroad service is appreciably better. The streetcar, the electric lighting and gas systems—in Moscow, at least—are better than a year ago."

The Red Bear, gaunt and weak, but with renewed interest in life and a desire to do, is wily emerging from his den. Recovery will be slow. But it's start, says Garner.

Worth While Verse

THE FOG-SEA

The morning is to thousand miles away.
The winter night surrounds me, vast and cold,
Without a star. The voiceless fog is rolled
From ocean-levels desolate and grey;
But over all the floods of moonlight lay
A glory on those billows that enfold
The muffled sea and forest. Gaunt and old,
The dripping redwoods wait the distant day.

Unknown, above, what silver-dripping waves
Break slowly on the purple reefs of night!
What radiant foam ascends from shadowy bars,
Or sinks unechoing to soundless caves!
No whisper is upon those tides of light,
Setting in silence toward the risen stars.

II
O phantom sea, pale spirit of unrest!
There is no thunder where your billows break.
Morning shall be your strand; your waters make
An island of the mountain-top, whose crest
Is lonely on the ocean of your breast.
No sail is there save what our visions take
Of mist and moonlight, on whose ghostly wake
Our dreams go forth unuttered to the West.

The splendor on your tides is high and far,
Seen by the mind alone, whose wings can sweep
On wilder glories and a vaster deep.
Oh child your gulfs, O sea without a song!
Hiding the heavens from man, man from the star,
To which your parent sea endures as long.
—George Sterling in Lyric West.

WILL STOCK DIVIDENDS PROVIDE BOOMERANG?

More than $2,150,000,000 in stock dividends was distributed by 328 corporations in 1922. Not one cent of tax will be paid upon this vast sum by those who received it, because the Supreme Court of the United States has held that dividends paid in stock are not income to the recipient.

A few weeks ago, due probably to the wide newspaper comment on the legal avoidance of taxes through the stock dividend plan, the senate passed a resolution calling for the names of the companies that had distributed their surpluses in this manner, and the amounts. The senate also wanted to know what, if any, penalties had been imposed by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue upon the 328 companies that had, by permitting their profits to accumulate beyond the needs of the business, instead of being divided, thus preventing the imposition of the surtax upon the stockholders.

For, be it remembered, the law provides for an additional tax, in the nature of a penalty, "upon any corporation that is formed, or availed of, for the purpose of preventing a surtax on its share holders by permitting its profits to accumulate instead of being distributed. Now, however, the senate of the United States wants to know what the Secretary of the Treasury is going to do about it. Is he going to find that these corporations, or others that did not declare dividends payable in stock, are liable to the special 25 per cent tax on their great surpluses which the business did not reasonably need, or is he going to find that he has no power to reach these billions?

This special tax is 25 per cent (in addition to all other income taxes) of the net income for each taxable year during which the accumulation is permitted. It gives the Commissioner of Internal Revenue the discretion of saying whether the surpluses are beyond the requirements of the business. If they are the law says it shall be prima facie evidence of a purpose to escape surtaxes.

Now, hundreds of corporations had permitted their profits to accumulate far beyond their needs. They were facing a tax of 25 per cent on such sums, if still held, or, if divided, would put upon their stockholders the obligation to pay millions in surtaxes on cash dividends.

The decision of the Supreme Court, however, left the gate wide open, and corporations stampeded for the green fields of tax safety on the other side of it. They declared and distributed stock dividends out of the accumulated surpluses, and nobody paid any tax. Uncle Sam was left holding the bag and looking for other tax sources to make up the ever-threatening deficiency.

In his answer to the senate resolution, the secretary shows that the first returns under this law—those of 1921—were not received until March 15, 1922, and have not been examined, and that the 1922 returns, to which the resolution particularly refers, will not be filed until the 15th of March, 1923. Therefore, "no occasion has yet

Adventures of the Twins

The Man on Stilts

By Olive Roberts Barton

Now that the Twins were past the fiery mountain and over the wide, wide river, they went on toward Jack Straw's domino house again.

It was so near now that they could see the double five where the door was.

But their adventure was not to be ended so soon, for other things were to happen.

The first was a man on stilts, eating his lunch out of a bird's nest.

"Hello there!" he called down. "Who are you?" z z z z z "Nancy and Nick," said Nick politely.

"And where are you going?" "To Jack Straw's house to put him out," said Nancy. "He's mixed up everything in Mix-Up Land and put out King Even-Steven. We're going to put him out."

"Why, he's out now," said the man. "I just saw him."

"Then we'll fix it so up can't get in again," said Nick. "We'll knock down his domino house and he won't have any place to live."

"Excuse me!" said the man, taking a large bite out of a ham sandwich. "I just found a ham sandwich tree and I can't think till I've eaten something. There! One bites gone! That's one thought! Two bites gone! That's two thoughts! Three bites gone! Now I've got an idea. I'll come right down."

So he hopped off his stilts. "By the way, what's in your basket?"

"Eggs," said Nancy. "Eggs," said Nick. "Ham and eggs! Fine!" cried the man. "Together we should make our fortunes. Now here is my idea. Let Jack Straw to put his thing on his right thumb. He doesn't know it, but if he does so, everything will be set to rights again and Mix-Up Land will become Apple Pie Land and King Even-Steven will be king."

"How do you know?" asked Nancy. "I heard the wizard who made it tell the witch who stole it, who told the magician who repaired it, who—"

"I guess we can't wait to hear the rest," said Nancy politely. "Good day, sir." (To Be Continued.) (Copyright, 1923, NEA Service, Inc.)
